

Denies 2 Freed Pilots Spying

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—North Korean Communists today released two American helicopter pilots forced down by gunfire last May, then claimed the U.N. Command had acknowledged the pilots committed a border violation on an espionage mission.

A United Nations Command spokesman confirmed delivery of a receipt for the prisoners admitting they committed espionage.

Teamsters File Suit At Hoffa

Demand Leader And Aides Repay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six members of the Teamsters Union have filed suit demanding that the union president, James R. Hoffa, and his top command repay the union money that Hoffa and other officials have used to defend themselves in criminal trials.

The six rank-and-file Teamsters, in the U.S. District Court suit Friday, also asked that the court grant an injunction forbidding further payments of such legal expenses.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars of the money already spent are in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

It was another in a series of sharp blows to Hoffa's position as boss of the nation's biggest union.

Even as the suit was entered here, Hoffa was sitting in a Chicago courtroom on trial on charges of conspiring to defraud the union in a $20-million loan scheme.

He also is appealing an eight-year jury-tampering conviction in Chattanooga, Tenn. — all of which costs money and keeps him from supervising the day-to-day affairs of the Teamsters, which he has run with an iron hand.

Some union sources have questioned whether Hoffa can remain in power, in the face of the court actions, without the backing of the union treasury. Others point out that Hoffa has weathered some hard storms in the past.

The six Philadelphia Teamsters who filed the suit are part of the same group who kicked off a fuss in the Teamster high command several weeks ago over the question of Hoffa's legal fees.

Teamsters general counsel, Edward Bennett Williams, agreed with the Philadelphia group that such expenditures are illegal. Some executive board members demanded a full board meeting to consider the question further.

No such meeting has yet been scheduled on the issue but Hoffa said he would stop using union money to pay his huge legal costs until the Teamsters can get another legal opinion on the matter.

The suit follows a recently announced Labor Department investigation into the union's payment of Hoffa's legal bills.

The only power the Labor De-

age. But he said later, that the admission "is, of course, meaningless."

Capt. Ben. W. Stutts, 31, Florence, Ala., and Carleton W. Voltz, 27, Frankfort, Mich., the pilots, were flown to Seoul, where doctors said they were in good condition.

They were to rest overnight in the U. S. Army hospital before questioning by intelligence officers.

The pilots, who quickly changed from drab cotton Communist uniforms into U.S. Army khaki, were not permitted to talk to newsmen.

In Seoul, the U.N. spokesman, U.S. Army Col. George Creel, explained the advance receipt and its admission of espionage in a statement.

UNC representatives were prepared to sign and did sign a receipt which, pursuant to KPA — Communist North Korean army — demands as a condition for the release of the pilots included a statement that the helicopter pilots committed espionage," the statement said.

"Such an admission is, of course, meaningless."

On Assigned Mission

"The two pilots were in uniform and engaged in an assigned military mission, specifically that of checking aircraft warning markers south of the DMZ — demilitarized zone — and, therefore, clearly were not engaged in espionage."

"The record is clear, the facts have not changed, and anybody can read the true situation from the facts of the case."

Col. Han Joo-kyung, the Communist Korean secretary, said the two fliers had signed a statement saying they were on a criminal mission when their helicopter was forced down by Communist ground fire on May 17, 1963.

Han distributed to newsmen what was described as a photographic copy of a receipt for the pilots from the U.N. command, admitting the two were guilty of espionage and illegal intrusion and promising such acts would not be repeated.

Johnson Praises Help

For months, the U.N. Command had denied the pilots were on a spying mission. It said the men were inspecting ground markers in the two-mile-wide demilitarized zone and inadvertently had wandered across the Communist side.

In Washington, President Johnson said, "We have made great efforts to obtain their release and have had the help for which we are grateful—of humanitarian organizations and a number of other countries."

Esopus Studies Museum, Census

The possibility of establishing an area natural history museum in the Town of Esopus and the taking of an interim federal census were the principal items of interest to come before the monthly meeting of the Esopus Town Board this week at the Town Hall, Port Jervis.

A letter from Mrs. Robert Tienken, Union Center Road, called attention to the efforts of an area group of naturalists and interested citizens in forming a local natural history museum to serve the Ulster-Dutchess county area. The efforts of this group was reported in last Tuesday's Freeman. Similar local natural

With McNamara, Rusk

Johnson Looks Into Viet Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson confers today with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on plans for increasing military and economic aid to South Viet Nam.

Johnson told congressional leaders at a White House meeting Friday that he would ask for more funds to support a heavier U.S. commitment to the Saigon government, stung by an upsurge in terror raids by pro-Communist guerrillas.

McNamara, who returned Thursday from another inspection trip to South Viet Nam, and Rusk briefed 17 Republican and Democratic leaders and the National Security Council.

Rusk had just returned from a North Atlantic Treaty Organization council meeting in The Hague where he asked the allies to give more assistance to the anti-Communist effort in Viet Nam.

Not Very Optimistic

In general the congressional leaders declined to comment on what they had heard at the briefing but Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told newsmen: "There has been no significant change. It isn't a very optimistic picture."

After the meeting White House press secretary George Reedy summed it up this way: "I think it is rather obvious there will be a need for additional funds and some appropriate recommendations."

He declined to say whether Johnson would present the proposals in a special message, a speech or a budget request.

Stresses More Help

After returning from Saigon, McNamara said that more U.S. military and economic aid must be sent to Viet Nam. This, he said, might require more U.S. troops to train Vietnamese forces.

No sooner was McNamara out of Viet Nam than the Communist Viet Cong won one of their bloodiest victories in a month in the jungle war. They trapped a convoy of government forces, killing 54 and wounding 50, including an American ranger captain. Ten others are missing.

Claim New Landings In Cuba

CIA Behind Raids, Roa Informs U. N.

Infiltation Move

The Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba, a Cuban exile group in Washington, confirmed the landings Friday and said they were carried out as the attack on a sugar mill in Port Pilon diverted the attention of Cuban armed forces.

The committee said the landing was an infiltration move, part of a long-range plan to bolster internal guerrilla forces.

A Spanish language broadcaster in Miami said there were landings on both the north and south coasts of Cuba.

Roa sent a note to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant warning that peace might be endangered by Wednesday's sugar mill raid and by an arms cache found earlier off the Cuban coast.

The note said the sugar mill attack was by a pirate ship "such as the CIA operates from bases in Florida, Puerto Rico and Central America."

"Using these illegal flights of U2 planes over the national territory of Cuba, the CIA obtains information about our military installations for the organization and carrying out of these vanguard attacks," the note continued.

Vows Return by May

The State Department, in Washington, continued to deny U.S. involvement.

In Puerto Rico, Manuel Ray, leader of an exile action group, resigned his government job. Ray, a former member of Castro's cabinet, has promised to be back on Cuban soil by May 20.

Rocky Will Get Support Sunday From L. A. Times

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Times will announce in a Sunday morning editorial that it is endorsing the delegation pledged to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in California's June 2 primary.

Rockefeller's delegation, says the Times, "represents the broader spectrum of Republican philosophy."

Deep Gratitude, First Reaction Of Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP)—The upset he scored in the Oregon primary was Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's first significant victory in five months of hard campaigning for the Republican nomination for president. He said his immediate reaction was "deep gratitude."

Strategists Move Quickly

His top campaign strategists moved quickly today to capitalize on the governor's success.

They began discussing plans to use the results in Oregon as evidence that:

—Republicans want a moderate candidate and Rockefeller is "the leading moderate of the party."

—Rockefeller, who came from behind in the closing days of the Oregon primary with an all-out effort, is the only candidate who can wage the type of fighting campaign needed to get a GOP victory in November.

—The GOP leaders who had written off Rockefeller as a serious prospect for the nomination will have to take a new look at him.

Meets Press Today

The governor called a news conference for 11 a.m. (EDT).

Only Mrs. Rockefeller was present with the governor as he watched television coverage of the primary.

He returned home Friday after six days on the road.

Rockefeller campaigned in Oregon through Thursday afternoon, then flew to Washington for an intelligence briefing on national security and foreign policy. He also met with President Johnson, who had offered the briefings to all prospective nominees for the presidency.

Tribute to Gallant Man

John A. Wells, Rockefeller's national campaign chairman, told reporters the outcome of the primary was "a tribute to a very gallant gentleman who doesn't know how to quit."

He said he was sure the results would have an impact on the June 2 primary in California, in which Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater are the only candidates.

Rockefeller will fly to California Monday night to begin his final drive to win that state's 86 votes.

Lodge Forces May Back Him on Coast Against Goldwater

N. Y. Governor Has 11,565 Margin With 593 Oregon Precincts Missing

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller swept to an upset victory in the Oregon primary that turned the tables on Henry Cabot Lodge and set the stage for a possible California alliance between the two Republican presidential hopefuls.

Lodge men, stunned by the setback in an Oregon race they had expected to win, headed for Los Angeles to talk over their next move.

Rockefeller, the only personal campaigner in a six - candidate field, left Lodge well behind in second place in Oregon's Friday balloting.

There were reports the Lodge forces were ready to throw their weight behind Rockefeller in California's primary June 2. Paul Grindle, a leader of the campaign for the ambassador, denied this.

Grindle said, however, that the high command of the Lodge movement would explore the situation in general — and California, in particular — at the Los Angeles meeting.

Head-on Clash

Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, who ran third in Oregon, are alone on the ballot there. No write-in votes will be counted in their head - on clash for 86 GOP national convention delegates.

Whatever the Lodge organization does in California, Rockefeller hoped the Oregon victory would thrust him toward another triumph there.

Rockefeller, cast as the underdog in Oregon, has the same role in California.

With 2,658 of Oregon's 3,251 precincts counted, the Republican race stacked up this way: Rockefeller 64,998, Lodge 53,433, Goldwater 35,142, Nixon 33,502, Smith 5,667, Scranton 3,266.

The Oregon triumph awarded Rockefeller 18 convention votes. It was a write-in upset in the New Hampshire presidential primary that first propelled Lodge absent and undeclared — into the battle for the Republican nomination.

Others Far Behind

Rockefeller's Oregon upset victory appeared to have knocked him out of it.

Goldwater and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon ran far behind Rockefeller and Lodge in Oregon.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, who neither campaigned nor had Oregon allies at work, split a relative handful of primary votes.

With 2,658 of Oregon's 3,251 precincts counted, the Republican race stacked up this way: Rockefeller 64,998, Lodge 53,433, Goldwater 35,142, Nixon 33,502, Smith 5,667, Scranton 3,266.

That gave Rockefeller 33 percent of the vote and Lodge 27 per cent. Those percentages stood from the very first sprinkling of votes Friday night.

Boycott Is Possible of CR Caucus

Senate Resumes Saturday Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate resumes Saturday sessions on the embattled civil rights bill today, with Southern senators talking of boycotting a Democratic caucus Tuesday where amendments proposed by the bipartisan leadership will be considered.

Russell Undecided

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chief strategist of the Dixie forces, said he hasn't decided whether to show up or not. But he told reporters, "I don't see any useful purpose in doing so."

He added some Southerners may go but said he could "argue on the floor just as well."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., one of Russell's lieutenants, said in a separate interview that he will boycott the meeting and that others are expected to follow suit.

With the debate in its 57th day prospects for passage hinge on whether sufficient support for the leadership package of some 70 amendments can be mustered to cut off the Southern talkathon.

Adoption of cloture requires two-thirds of the senators present and voting.

Two Groups to Meet

Meanwhile, the debate proceeds. The leadership, while calling a Saturday session, left the Senate recess comparatively early Friday night 7:18.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has invited all Democratic senators to a conference Tuesday morning to discuss the package of amendments worked out with Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A conference of Republican senators also is set that day to go over the proposed changes, designed to drum up enough support for the cloture petition.

Stennis said the Democratic meeting isn't likely to be "a caucus at all but a strategy session by proponents, and I could not be any help."

Historical Review Traces Long Tradition of Service

Paltz College Will Conclude Five-Day Ceremonies Sunday

Thousands of persons have attended activities at the State University College at New Paltz, which were held in recognition of the recent expansion and future growth of the college. The elaborate program opened on Wednesday and will continue through Sunday.

A highlight of the five-day event was the announcement at a master plan luncheon Wednesday, of details of a $30 million expansion program planned by the University of New York for its college at New Paltz.

The announcement was made by Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the college.

Visitors received a brief history of the State University College of New Paltz, which was released by the office of Leland E. Heinze, director of information at the college. The historical review traces the long tradition of service in education of people of New York and dates back to the New Paltz Classical School, which was established in New Paltz by private subscription in 1928.

The New Paltz Classical High School was but the beginning of expanding educational opportunities in the community. In 1833, a new building was constructed, again at private subscription, and the New Paltz Academy came into being, based upon the determination of New Paltz citizens to provide coming generations with more liberal educational opportunities.

The review of the college history continues:

In 1884, fire destroyed the Academy building, and a movement to rebuild was linked with the task of securing legislation to convert the Academy into a State Normal School.

In the spring of 1885, the State Legislature authorized the establishment of a Normal School at New Paltz. It was opened in February, 1886. During the year 1960-61, the college celebrated its 75th anniversary with a series of special convocations, open houses, cultural events, conferences, dedication events and the publication of In a Valley Fair, a history of the college's first 75 years.

Through the years enrollment in the Normal School increased, standards for admissions were raised, more faculty were added to the staff, and the courses of study were broadened.

Fire ravaged the Normal School building in 1906. At that

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODIE ISHMAEL

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help." Psalm 121:1

Stephen Tyng Mather has been called the father of our national parks. The scenic wonders of God's handiwork in Yosemite, Yellowstone, Zion National Park, to name a few, owe much to his concern and leadership. "God spoke clearly to him amidst the scenic wonders of the national parks and this message he sought earnestly to share with others," it has been said.

Born in California, Mr. Mather was an active churchman who supported with works and gifts Jane Addams' Hall House, United Charities of Chicago and the Illinois Home for Crippled Children. But his greatest contribution came when he was appointed assistant to the secretary of the interior and established a bureau of national parks. He laid the spiritual foundation of the national park idea, "... that these wonders should be left unimpaired for future generations to enjoy."

Methodists Act on Merger, Race Problems at Conclave

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
PITTSBURGH (AP)—The race problem has great significance for the Methodist Church and loomed large at the recent Methodist General Conference here.

More than 2.8 million of the Church's 10.3 million members are located in the Southeastern states. They are the strongest bloc, numerically and politically. After two weeks of soul-searching, the conference took a strong stand toward racial integration.

"We are one of the biggest churches. It means something when we let the world know where we stand," said Howard Jones, a lay delegate from Kentucky.

But there were many other problems for the 900 delegates. Among them were merger with the Evangelical United Brethren Church and other branches of Methodism, proposed union with four other major Protestant denominations, and revisions in worship procedure.

Meets Every Four Years
The conference, policy-making body of the Church, meets only once in four years and must handle hundreds of matters. Methodists admit it is an unwieldy and imprecise machine.

"I was more aware of that this time than ever before," said Bishop Gerald Kennedy of Los Angeles. "But this is democracy at its best and at its worst."

The first conference was held in Baltimore in 1794, barely two decades after circuit riders started to spread the beliefs of John Wesley in the New World. Wesley wouldn't recognize his Church today.

It is a corporation rivaling the giants of industry. Last year it collected from parishioners $599 million to support 79 hospitals, 105 colleges, the world's largest religious publishing house, more than 1,500 missionaries, and the spread of its influence to 44 countries.

Bishop Wicke Speaks
Although civil rights is the most acute problem facing the church, in the mind of Bishop Lloyd Wicke, president of the Council of Bishops, it is only part of a larger one.

"That is keeping the sense of mission and vitality in a group that has grown so large that it has to reorient itself from the psychology of a frontier church."

Bishop Wicke feels that the Church has failed to provide an answer to the "Christian life of the city, the problems of the urban population."

A big step was taken toward merger with the Evangelical United Brethren Church. Although it put off a final vote, it did call for a special session in 1966 to take such action. Dr. Norman Trott, president of the Wesley Theological Seminary of Washington, D.C., called the merger "eventually inevitable."

First Baptist Pastor to Attend Parley This Week

A total of 40,000 Baptist delegates and visitors representing seven denominational groups in North America with 80,000 churches and 22 million members will meet at Atlantic City, N. J. May 22 through 24 to celebrate 150 years of organized Baptist work.

Among the approximately 10,000 delegates and visitors from 40 states including Hawaii and Alaska, attending the 57th annual meeting of the American Baptist Convention May 18 through 22, will be the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Schmitz, Dr. Schmitz is interim pastor of the First Baptist Church, Albany Avenue at Broadway.

The Southern Baptist Convention with 15,000 messengers and visitors will meet May 19 through 22.

The program of the American Baptists Convention will present three current issues: Race, Peace with Justice, and Christian Unity. One issue will be considered on each full day of the convention. On the final day, May 22, the subject will be Action.

Speakers on the American Convention program include Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota; the Rev. Dr. Ralph B. Abernathy and the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, both of Atlanta, Ga., and leaders in the integration movement; the Rev. Dr. Herbert Gezerk, president of Andover Newton Theological School, Newton Centre, Mass.; Dr. R. H. Edwin Espy, general secretary of the National Council of Churches, New York; the Rev. Dr. Robert J. McCracken, pastor of the Riverside Church, New York; and the Rev. Dr. Edward B. Cole, convention preacher, of Pomona, Calif.

Theme of the American Convention is "Courage to Love." Harold E. Stassen, of Philadelphia, Pa., and president of the American Baptist Convention, will deliver the presidential address at the opening session.

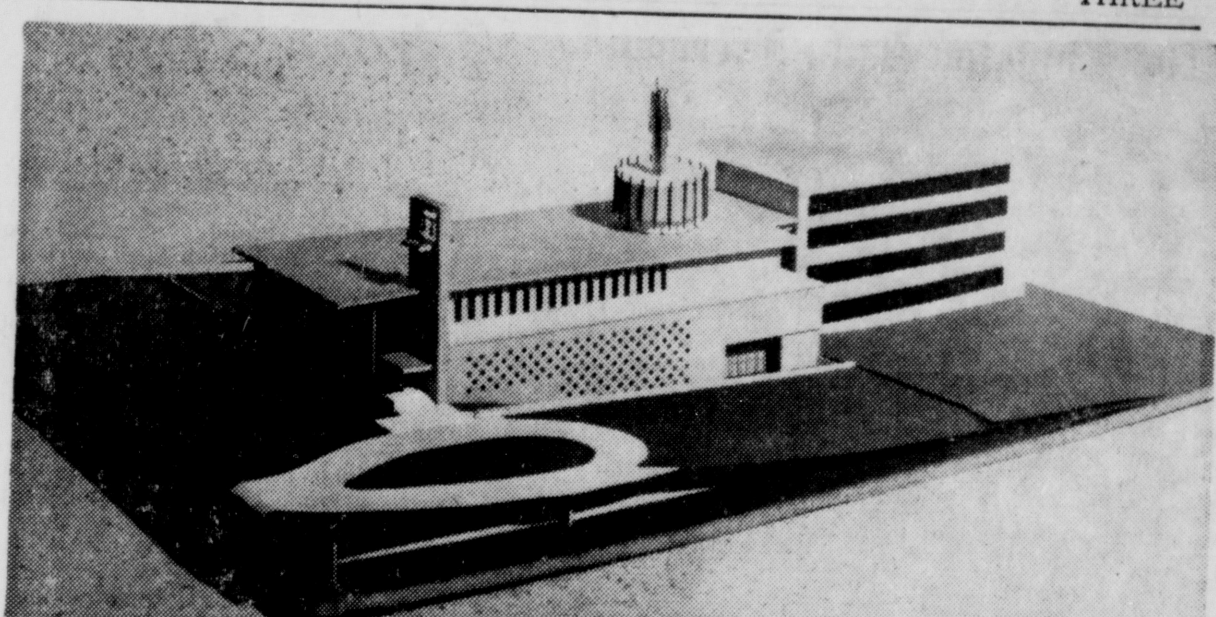

The Rev. Dr. K. Owen White, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Houston, Tex., is president of the Southern Baptist Convention; the Rev. Dr. Theodore Adams, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Richmond, Va., is chairman of the Baptist Jubilee Advance and will preside at the joint sessions, May 22-24.

Featured at the 150th anniversary celebration is a newly commissioned oratorio, "What Is Man?" to be presented by the well-known Philadelphia City Choir, and a 60-piece symphony orchestra under the direction of Dr. Thor Johnson, of Evanston, Ill., two featured soloists, and a narrator. The premier will be held Saturday, May 23, at 8 p. m.

Evangelist Billy Graham will speak at the final sessions of the Southern Baptist Convention as well as the final meeting of the 150th anniversary celebration. Baptists constitute the largest non-Catholic religious group on the North American continent.

Ist Baptist Men Will Hear 2 UR Speakers May 27
Urban Renewal will be the topic for the dinner meeting of the First Baptist Church Men's Club Wednesday, May 27.

Eric Hemphill of Philadelphia, Pa., newly appointed urban renewal director for Kingston and Ward B. Tongue, administrative assistant for the local UR program, will address the men.

PLANNED CONVENT ADDITION—A scale model of new chapel and infirmary shows major building program planned at Presentation Motherhouse in Newburgh. Fund campaign is underway to raise a minimum of $400,000. A total of over $200,000 has been realized already. Volunteers from regional offices here as well as in mid-town Manhattan, upper Manhattan, Bronx, Goshen, Newburgh and Yonkers are calling on friends of the Presentation Sisters. The proposed building is designed to match the existing new novitiate and follows the contours of the land. The chapel will seat approximately 400 persons. Over the infirmary are two floors which will accommodate 26 nuns. Under the infirmary provision has been made for the future refectory.

Speaker Is Named For 1st Meeting Of Merged WSCS

The first meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the merged New York and New York East Methodist Conferences will be held June 3 at 10:15 a. m. at Grace Methodist Church, Valley Stream. Members of church societies from 591 Methodist churches will attend.

Mrs. J. Fount Tillman of Nashville, Tenn., who is serving her eighth year as president of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, an organization composed of 1,800,000 members, will be the speaker at the afternoon session on the topic, New Occasions Teach New Duties.

Mrs. John M. Pearson of Hartford, Conn., will preside at the morning session which will open with an invocation by the Rev. Paul Sartorio, host pastor, and greetings from Mrs. Schmidt, president of the host society. Officers of the new organization will be elected and Mrs. Dwain Smith of Brooklyn will give the treasurer's report and present the budget for next year.

Mrs. Franklin Winton of Stratford, Conn., will speak on The New Campus and Mrs. Howard Darling of Marlboro on A New Course. A pledge service in which churches will accept financial responsibility for the missionary program will close the morning session.

The afternoon session will start at 1:30 with the new president presiding. Mrs. Joseph Geary of New Britain, Conn., will conduct a worship service on the theme The Unfolding Glory. The Gospels followed by Mrs. Tillman's address. She will install the new officers. Music will be provided by Miss Doris Reutell of Valley Stream and Mrs. Ronald Law, retiring president of the former New York East Conference society, will pronounce the benediction.

Local Minister Is Delegate to N. Y. Conference

The Rev. Olney E. Cook, pastor of the Ponckhockie Union Congregational Church is listed as a delegate to the annual meeting of the New York Conference of the United Church of Christ to be held in Albany May 19 through 21.

The over 500 delegates will vote on resolutions calling for further participation by church members in the civil rights movement, for support of President Johnson's anti-poverty campaign and for a more comprehensive foreign aid program.

The United Church of Christ is a union of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and Congregational Christian churches. The New York Conference was founded in May, 1963 when the New York Congregational Christian Conference, the New York Evangelical and Reformed Synod and the West New York Evangelical and Reformed Synod joined to form a single conference. The conference consists of 393 churches with 117,919 members.

The proposed resolution on civil rights calls for an end to "foot dragging and equivocating" by local churches in the denomination's program of "Racial Justice Now" adopted at its General Synod Meeting in Denver, Colo. in 1963. Congregations are urged to declare their memberships open to people of all races and to encourage members to contribute to and participate in the civil rights movement.

The resolution on poverty expresses support of the proposals in the President's message of January, 1964 for Federal assistance in training persons displaced by technical change, high school drop-outs and the unemployed in "distressed" areas.

Redeemer Church To Confirm 17 At Rites Sunday
The Rite of Confirmation, held traditionally on the festival of Pentecost will be administered Sunday to a group of 17 young people at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers Streets.

The class of confirmands will be presented by the vicar, Paul W. Anhalt and be confirmed by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. David C. Gaise, who will also preach the confirmation sermon on the text, Hold that fast which thou hast.

The group to be presented includes: Paul Bach, Robert M. Burger, Grace A. Christensen, Philip S. Clum, Diane L. Frankfield, Robert H. Greenburg, John F. Hasbrouck, Kevin J. Kerr, Hermine G. Keyser, George Nilsson, Anna M. Portz, Knute Rinde, Sandra J. Ryan, Donald H. Schoonmaker, Nancy S. Sleight, Janis L. Torgersen, Carol M. Zimmerman.

Trinity Lutheran Confirmation Is Slated on Sunday
The rite of confirmation will be administered to 15 young people at the main service at Trinity Lutheran Church.

Following two years of instruction the confirmands were recently examined in the presence of their parents and members of the church council.

Through the rite of Confirmation, administered by the pastor, Rev. John H. Frenssen, the confirmands will be received into communicant membership of Trinity Lutheran Church.

AND ALL THE WHILE

Now and then, as one trots in his little squirrel cage of daily activities, there comes a moment of awareness of some of the less routine things that are going on in the world. Sometimes this flash of realization seems to pop out of nowhere; sometimes it is touched off by a news item.

The latter experience was ours the other day when we read a bit of news reported by the National Geographic Society. It seems that a six-man Norwegian ski unit journeying over the top of the world from Canada to Europe is almost half way to the North Pole from its starting point on Ellesmere Island.

We had known that the team was under way, but we had forgotten. Here was a reminder that all the while we had been going through the usual mundane round, those men had been slogging farther and farther north 'way above the Arctic Circle. As this is written they are moving across the white barrens like ants across a tennis court. Weeks hence they will still be on their way.

There are other such things. All at once, one recalls that a man alone on a raft is bobbing along halfway across the Pacific. Or one remembers that the once-invalued upper atmosphere of the earth is threaded constantly, now, by a host of artificial satellites that go 'round and 'round whether we remember or not.

All of which leads to no special conclusion. Except perhaps that life, though it may often seem commonplace and even dull, is full of the most fascinating diversity if we but open our senses to it.

FILIP FOR CYCLISTS

Cyclists have reason to sit a little taller in the saddle these days. One of their big problems, where to find adequate pathways for cycling, has been taken up in Washington. Whether that found of wisdom will actually produce more facilities for two-wheelers remains to be seen, but it is encouraging that the matter is now being mulled over at such a high level.

This is not a wholly new development. At the time of President Eisenhower's heart attack, it will be recalled, Dr. Paul Dudley White focused some Washington light on the merits of cycling as an aid to fitness. This is the orientation of present discussions, too; the President's Council on Physical Fitness is involved.

Good enough. But let us hope that the amenities of cycling, as well as its therapeutic value, will also be given some attention. If there are to be more paths, let them wind through pleasant spots. Half the fun of cycling is to observe the passing scene at something under 40 miles an hour. If the passing scene is scenic, so much the better.

DRINKING, DRIVING, DEATH

The drinking-driving problem, one of the most serious facing the nation today, dominates any discussion of death on our highways.

Alcohol is involved in at least 50 per cent of all fatal accidents, according to the New York State Traffic Safety Council. The problem is vexing nationally, but it is worse in New York. Council studies of 28 New York cities show our arrest and conviction rate for drunken driving is one of the poorest on record.

In New York City, the situation got so bad Commissioner M. J. Murphy launched a vigorous campaign against drunken drivers. The 1963 arrests jumped 52 per cent compared to 1962 for a record total of 4,508. Arrests in January of this year jumped 87 per cent. If more communities in the State followed this example, drunken driving problems would be drastically reduced.

This is not only a police problem, but a community, social, public and personal one which involves courts and juries as well as neighbors.

The drunken driver is a menace to all

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THE BLACK CATS LIE IN WAIT

Balint Czupry is a former member of the Hungarian parliament who is an analyst for the Free Europe Committee in Munich. He comes from peasant stock. I have just obtained a translation of a paper he has done called "The Outlook for Hungarian Agriculture, 1964." On the basis of statistics about the destruction of cows and pigs in Hungary in 1963, and further information from the Hungarian countryside about a speed-up in sowing last autumn that took place without proper fertilization or preparation of the soil, Balint Czupry predicts another bad year for Hungarians if they can't latch on to a second big infusion of grain from Canada or the United States.

The Balint Czupry analysis might be dismissed as the wishful statement of a refugee who thinks with his hopes. But it so happens that it checks with news from a variety of sources behind the Iron Curtain. The Czupry paper tells about 40,000 trained tractor drivers who have vanished from Hungarian farms into the cities. This sort of thing is apparently happening elsewhere in the Red World. A young Soviet poet, V. Tsinin, has recently published a verse that goes this way:

"Oh, this craving for city life,
And fixed pay.
Not like in the country!
And who will be settled on the land?
And with what torments will you pay,
The land abandoned by you!"

Quoting this poem, Grigory V. Yuriev, who is on the staff of the Institute for the Study of the USSR in Munich, adds to his own analysis of Iron Curtain agriculture an excerpt from a recent speech by S. Pavlov, the Secretary of the Central Committee of the Komsomol, or Young Communist League. Pavlov demanded summary action to compel agronomists, engineers, veterinarians and animal husbandry experts to return to the farms from Soviet industrial centers. Soviet agriculture is lagging because the factories pay more than the collective farms. Said Alla Gromova, the secretary of the Komsomol committee of an industrial enterprise that has been employing many young refugees from the countryside. "They all talk like this (about preferring city work). There is nothing to be done about it. Fish seek deeper water."

This sort of testimony about the drift from the farms to the cities in Iron Curtain lands can be multiplied many times over. And it is only one type of manifestation that indicates Khrushchev is going to be pushed into all sorts of attempted legerdemain in his efforts to keep the lid on a boiling cauldron this coming summer. In Poland, for example, Khrushchev is faced with the discontent of the intellectuals, thirty-four of whom recently sent a letter to Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz demanding greater cultural freedom. The intellectuals were silenced, and several of them were banned from the Polish radio and from magazines, but the news of their petition leaked out to the West anyway. In Czechoslovakia, where Stalinism has lingered longer than in other Iron Curtain countries, the students kicked over the traces on May Day. The Red police, using precisely the tactics that so scandalized American liberals when they were used in Birmingham, Ala., formed a wedge behind ferocious dogs held on leash and swung at the students with truncheons.

Meanwhile there is a suppressed story about the growth of secret terrorist organizations in the Red world that are modelled on the Death or Freedom movement that led to the Decembrist uprising more than a hundred years ago against the Russian Czar. The new Death or Freedom cells stress their continuity with a revolt that didn't succeed. Nevertheless, the movement is a straw in the wind of present-day discontent. Most menacing of all to Khrushchev's equanimity is a super-terrorist grouping called the Chornaia Koshka, or Black Cat Society. The Black Cats strike in the dark, leaving this memento behind them:

"The night is black,
The cat is black,
Soon you go to hell,
Nikita Khrushchev."

Listen to Her Backtalk

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My girl, 11, has always been rebellious with me. When she was smaller she had tantrums if she didn't want to do what I said. Now she gives me arguments. Even when her father backs me up and makes her do what I say, she has to shoot her mouth off at me anyway. My husband says why do I let her get under my skin like I do but he isn't around her all the time as I am.

ANSWER: Think back to the moment when she starts arguing. Does something happen to you which you haven't noticed? Do you hear the echo of a voice that used to say things like this to you when you were a little girl: "That will be all out of you . . . Do what you're told and no more backtalk! . . . Hurry up now and no more arguments. . . ."

I'm almost sure you do. I think that whenever your child starts protesting what you've asked, you can listen to what she is saying because you are so busy listening to the echoing voice of the group of your childhood who formed your idea of The Right Thing to Do With Children's Arguments. So you suffer when you can't shut your daughter up as you were shut up by your childhood grownup. You feel that you are a bad, incompetent mother because you can't do The Right Thing to Do With Children's Arguments—and satisfy the moral view of that echoing voice.

Its owner was not God. She could have been mistaken. Her view of the right treatment for children's arguments could have been tyrannical and stupid.

I wish you would question it with me. I wish that you would remember that even people charged with criminal offenses are granted their right to argue their point of view. They are even encouraged to hire lawyers to argue it. No matter how terrible is our suspicion, the law insists that we listen to all their backtalk before we decide whether they are guilty and bad.

Yet you cannot give this listening attention to your daughter's viewpoint. "Please, open your mind to a view of protesting children other than the one implanted in you long ago. When the fussing starts over some obedience try saying:

"All right, what is the best reason you have for not wanting to hang up your coat? If I think it makes sense, too, I'll hang it up for you. If I don't, you know what will have to be done. Now, what is your reason?"

of us. Let's all help get him from behind the wheel of the potentially death-dealing instrument on the highways.

GGoldwater plans to quit making off-the-cuff comments. This gives him a chance to get both feet on the ground and not have one in his mouth.

Drastic style changes are forecast in the 1965 cars. About the only parts that won't be changed are the wheels. They'll still be round.

A commission will probe Russia's lagging agricultural economy. The more Khrushchev tries to bury us, the deeper the peasants go in the hole.

SAN FRANCISCO — (NEA)

Here in California, most particularly in the fast-growing southern counties, the professional politician is learning what marksmen long have known—

it's hard to hit a moving target. In this instance the shifting target is the mobile voter. One survey has shown that in the San Diego area, where the changing fortunes of aircraft and space industries seriously affect jobholding, some 80 per cent of the voting population has changed residence in a given five-year period.

For some California areas, a year-old registration list may be badly dated. As many as one-fourth of the voters may not be living at the listed addresses. The massive metropolitan Los Angeles population cluster is, of course, a continuous mixing bowl of in-migrants, out-migrants and address-changers.

THOUGH THE CALIFORNIA SITUATION may be unmatched in the United States, population (voter) mobility is an increasing problem for politicians to cope with in all the sizable urban clusters today.

First off, the endless round of "moving days" temporarily robs millions of voters of their franchise, since they often cannot meet length-of-residence requirements for voting in zones new to them.

Second, it makes the matter of registering voters an increasing headache. The Democrats seem generally to be better at it than the Republicans, but even they tend to come down most heavily with hastily mounted election-year crash programs.

THE DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATION of the late William

Green in Philadelphia is perhaps the most efficient registration mechanism in the country. More than any other, it appears to make a serious effort at the costly continuous recheck of voter rolls needed to keep them updated.

Some politicians mutter that the one-touted machine of Mayor Richard Daley in Chicago has gone slack in this vital department and could do with major overhaul. But so probably could most party organizations across the land.

In zones of high mobility, the professional politician may not only be in the dark as to who is living in what house. Except for some educated guesses, based on neighborhood economic and general cultural levels, he also may know nothing of his constituents' past allegiances or what issues concern these people.

Political leaders, staring at the incredible sprawl of Los Angeles, shake their heads in puzzlement at how to make a dent. They have no faith that candidates' personal appearances on the street or in the daily hall make a lasting imprint. They put the big chips on television as the only hope.

ONE ASIDE: CAMPAIGN MANAGER sees still a further drawback in today's human mobility. The people who move, he says, are, for the most part, persons who are out to better themselves. They have energy, ability, ambition. From their ranks come some of the nation's best volunteer political workers.

Too many of these people thus are in a kind of no man's land. Their considerable political talents—and interest—are wasted, just as their valuable votes may be wasted in the process of transferring residence.

Mobility, then, is costing high in the political world, whatever its benefits elsewhere. The old anchors of stability — and the political assurance that went with them — are gone in many places.

Not more than a handful of professional politicians seem today even to be thinking about how to keep in stride with a voting citizenry that flows mercurially across the face of the nation.

The ball game in the 1960s is nearly brand new. It demands new rules and a brisk new approach.

Shokan

SHOKAN — Joe Donohue, a resident employee at Monhok Lake the past several years called here Wednesday. He formerly lived along the Watson Hollow Road.

Also in town recently were Mr. and Mrs. D. Wachtell, Scarsdale couple who were on their way to Halcott Center to visit friends.

Maverick Road residents calling in the village center Monday included Mrs. Philip Guston, a writer. Mrs. Guston's husband is an artist.

Carl Lane, formerly of Wittenberg, is occupying one of the L. F. Ruckert bungalows.

Elder Amasa J. Slauson, Kingston, conducted religious services in the 107-year Olive & Hurley Old School Baptist meeting house here last Sunday. Elder Slauson, native of Delaware County, observed his 81st birthday last May 3, the occasion being marked by a gathering of a number of friends and relatives including one-year old Scott Greene, a great grandson.

Callers in the hub of the reservoir country recently included Mrs. Larry Shurter, the former Avis Miller, whose home is the one time Will Hamilton place near High Point. She was accompanied by Mrs. John Every, Endicott, whose husband is native of the Watson Hollow sector of Olive.

Mrs. Elva H. Bogart, Kingston resident whose death was reported in the Freeman had a number of friends in Olive where she and her husband once maintained a summer home, the former Alva Bogart farm now owned by Mrs. George Pratt, Kingston. Mrs. Bogart was granddaughter of Dr. Samuel Hull, local physician whose home was along the old Plank Road about half a mile below the present village of Ashokan.

Charles Rice who lives at Hyde Park and works out of Poughkeepsie called on local friends last week. A party of 10 girls on bicycles came up Route 28 Thursday and stopped here. The girls were going on a picnic at the Ashokan Reservoir Park.

Looking Backward on Reservoir Country: May 13, 1948—Local friends of Francis Phillips were sorry to learn of the Mt. Tremper war veteran's accident in which he sustained a broken leg. Phillips' boyhood home here was along the Ashokan mountain road. Samuel Cohen who died recently had come to the lower village about 10 years ago and engaged in the grocery business there.

The Shokan Champions in their latest set-to with the Samsonville Stars met defeat in the tune of 6-3 runs after 11 innings of real snappy playing. Clayton Barringer twirled for the South Olive nine and George Jackson, Shokan, pitched for the locals. Highlight of this hot game was the two base hit of Hal Weber of the Champs who is currently batting at a .500 clip.

One of those motor power lawnmowers has been acquired by Donald North, younger son of Justice and Mary North. The local Scout and Kingston High student has already begun to pick up a little spending money mowing lawns for the villagers. May 11, 1910—Some of the young men are wishing they had one of those new automobiles instead of horse and buggy, so they could get acquainted with a few girls outside the Town of Olive. Right now, the boys would like to see and hear Ada Jones, the popular phonograph songbird who is at the Bijou Theatre in Kingston this week.

Charter Revision Committee Kingston, N. Y.
Editor, The Freeman:

On behalf of the City of Kingston Charter Revision Commission, I want to express deep regrets over the passing of Charles Rinschler, a member of our Commission from its inception.

During the past three years, Mr. Rinschler devoted much time to the formulation of a revised Charter. We were all aware of his keen sense of civic responsibility and understanding of our community's needs.

We feel fortunate to have had the opportunity to work with Mr. Rinschler during the entire course of preparation of the revised Charter which is now in the final stages preparatory to presentation to the public.

Sincerely,
ROBERT E. DAVIS
Chairman

Company of Providence, R. I. and William R. Johnson, coordinator for local government and education of IBM will assist in bringing the private business viewpoint and experience to special panel presentations. Over 60 exhibitors will feature supply, service and equipment items which have special application to public school district operations.

About 750 members, exhibitors and guests are expected to attend. Other program participants from the New Paltz area will be Frank A. Hamilton, business manager, New Paltz Central School who will report on a handbook under preparation titled Legal Aspects of Pupil Transportation. Hamilton is chairman of the committee preparing the publication.

Women Voters Schedule Dinner At Lake Mohonk

The New Paltz League of Women Voters have announced that the annual dinner will be held Tuesday at Lake Mohonk. This last general meeting of the year will be an open one, which the general public may attend.

The guest speaker for the evening will be John Sullivan, regional director of the bureau of outdoor recreation. Mr. Sullivan recently addressed a group of league representatives from the eastern seaboard on the subjects of water conservation and the Tocks Island Recreation Area.

The entire evening's program will start at 6:30 p. m. when those attending are to meet at Mountaintop Rest then proceed to Lake Mohonk for a 7 p. m. dinner. A brief business meeting will follow, in which members will vote on the annual budget and the new officers for the coming year. Mrs. Gerow Smiley, outgoing president of the New Paltz League, will conduct the meeting and introduce Mr. Sullivan.

Reservations are to be made by today with Mrs. Robert Duey.

Expect 500,000 Youngsters at E. German Rally

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communists launched a mammoth youth rally in East Berlin today, offering three days of entertainment including a concert by the secret police.

Communist officials said they expected about 500,000 youngsters from throughout East Germany to show up. It is the first such rally since 1954, when hundreds used the opportunity to escape to the West.

The Reds can feel fairly safe now. They built the Berlin Wall nearly three years ago and the chances of reaching the West are remote.

About 10,000 guards, armed with submachine guns and aided by police dogs, normally guard the border around West Berlin.

Western intelligence sources said they noted a slight increase in guards since Friday.

Hundreds of special trains and buses carried youngsters to the city from scattered towns and villages.

The meeting is sponsored by the Free German Youth Organization under the patronage of Walter Ulbricht, the Communist party boss.

Ulbricht invited West German youngsters to come to East Berlin for the rally but there was no evidence that any appreciable number did so.

Dad, Son Hurt In Ruby Mishap

A father and his son visiting here were injured in a motor scooter accident about 7 p. m. Friday on the Dachenhausen Road in Ruby.

Angelo Altomari Jr., 33, of Salisbury, N. C., formerly of Dalewood Court, Kingston, was taken to Benedictine Hospital where he was treated for a head cut and possible broken left shoulder. His son, Warren, 10, was treated for a left leg cut.

Served to Avoid Dog
State Police said the older Altomari was driving the scooter on the road when he swerved to avoid striking a dog. The scooter left the road, throwing the driver and passenger to the ground. Trooper John Kohland, Lake Katrine substation, investigated.

In other traffic cases: James Munley, 63, of Garfield Avenue, Kearney, N. J., was injured in a one-car accident about 3 a. m. today on McBride Street in Napanoch, Town of Wawarsing.

He was taken by Ellenville First Aid and Rescue Squad to Ellenville Hospital where he was treated for facial cuts and a hip injury. Trooper Hubert Dempsey, Ellenville substation, said Munley was driving north on McBride Street when an unknown car passed him and forced his vehicle off the road where it struck a tree.

Edward Beckett, 29, of Woodridge, Sullivan County, was arrested on two charges Friday afternoon by State Police at Ellenville.

He was committed to Ulster County Jail in lieu of $100 bail for his appearance later today before Peace Justice Herbert Poppel on charges of driving while intoxicated and driving an unregistered motor vehicle.

Motorist Gets Summons
A Rhinebeck motorist was issued a summons after a two-car collision Friday afternoon on the Mount Pleasant Road north of the Old Post Road, that Dutchess County community.

Trooper Hugh McNaullen cited Walter Harter, 45, for driving on the left on a curve. He said Harter was driving south on the Mt. Rusen Road and rounding a curve when his car entered the other side of the road and collided with a vehicle driven north on the same road by Henry Martin, 47, also of Rhinebeck. No injuries were reported.

Police said the summons was returnable before Peace Justice Clarence Traver, Rhinebeck.

Teamsters

partment has is to investigate and make public the amount spent for Hoffa's legal expenses.

The law leaves it up to individual union members, such as the Philadelphia group, to sue for reimbursement of any money allegedly spent improperly.

The Philadelphia group also asked that bonding companies who have bonded top union officials be made part of the suit. They said Teamsters leaders have refused to tell them the names of the bonding companies.

Suit Names 19
The suit named Hoffa, 14 other members of the union's executive board and four trustees. The union has refused to say how much Hoffa's long legal troubles have cost.

The six Teamsters contended that union officials are responsible under federal law to use union money solely for the benefit of the union and its members.

The six men who filed the suit are John C. Jones Sr., Jesse Coplo, Benjamin Burnham, Louis J. Buttone, L. V. Schafer and John Reagan.

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — John Kidney, 41, of (Taughannock Boulevard) Ithaca, was fatally injured today when his automobile left Route 89 and smashed into a tree near this Central New York community.

Papers Are Filed Before Deadline In Ackert Action

Saugerties Village officials were still awaiting today the decision of Supreme Court Justice T. Paul Kane, Albany, on a show cause order to nullify the dismissal of Ernest R. Ackert as village registrar of vital statistics.

Robert L. Carnright, village attorney, said he filed memorandums of law in the case last week, prior to the deadline Friday. It is understood that Louis P. Francello, attorney for Ackert, also filed a reply. Francello was reported out of town.

The show cause order seeks to reverse dismissal of Ackert as village registrar of vital statistics and the appointment of Shirley Malines as deputy clerk and William McCormack as deputy registrar.

The order, signed by Supreme Court Justice William Decker, was argued earlier this month by Carnright and Francello.

Ackert was not reappointed to the post of village clerk-treasurer at the April organizational meeting of the village board, and the reason was given for the board's action. At the board's meeting on April 27, Ackert was dismissed from his post as registrar by a unanimous vote.

The board then issued a statement quoting a 1963 State Board of Audit and Control report indicating a bookkeeping shortage of $1,381.06 over a three-year period. Ackert reportedly asked the state audit bureau on two occasions for a reevaluation of the village audit and each time submitted further information to justify bookkeeping differences between the state audit and his clerk-treasurer's report.

said as he has throughout the campaign. "I'm precluded by government regulations from engaging in any kind of political activity."

With the Oregon upset, Rockefeller appeared to have shaken for the first time the shadow issue of his divorce and his remarriage a year ago to the divorced mother of four children. The second Mrs. Rockefeller expects a baby in about two weeks.

Truce Focus: Hatfield
"I think the Oregon victory put the Rockefeller divorce matter more in its true focus," said Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, and Oregonians showed they voted for the man and what he stands for rather than any labels he may have or his personal affairs."

Then Hatfield — who stayed neutral in the Oregon campaign — dispatched this telegram to the New York governor: "Your victory here is a great personal one and is the result of your self and the issues to the people of Oregon."

Goldwater, who pulled out of the Oregon campaign five weeks ago, was hunting votes in California after writing off Oregon primary. He said he would be happy to run better than fourth.

Barry Not Surprised
Goldwater declared an Oregon victory would be impossible because he didn't spend enough time or money to win. His sons, Barry Jr. and Michael, did the Goldwater campaigning here.

"It went about the way I expected it to," Goldwater said of the Oregon race. "I have 325 delegates now, and Mr. Rockefeller has Oregon's . . . I'm glad he has some. It makes a better race."

Pollsters and politicians had expected Lodge to win. When he didn't, Paul Grindle, chief of the drive to draft the U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, called the Oregon outcome "a great tribute to moderate, middle-of-the-road Republicans."

"We all have a tremendous admiration for a man who keeps fighting," Grindle said of Rockefeller.

That left unanswered one big question about the faltering Lodge effort: Would his California supporters openly ally themselves with Rockefeller in California, where no write-in votes will be counted?

Rules Out Alliance
In the wake of the Oregon loss, Grindle said he and other Lodge campaign leaders would confer in Los Angeles today, but he insisted the ambassador's forces had not decided to throw their support to Rockefeller in California.

"We're simply going to explore the whole situation and the situation in California," he said.

Grindle had said earlier his men were going to "sit here and clear our heads." He added, "We don't know where we're going from here."

Hatfield called Rockefeller's victory "the upset of the year" and predicted it would influence the California race.

"If he goes on to win in the California primary, I think he definitely will be in the front-running position for the nomination," said the Oregon governor.

Rockefeller's national campaign chairman, John A. Wells, said the Oregon success was "the necessary step on the road to the nomination and agreed it would help in California."

Wells added, "We're still too close to the cliff to make any sort of prediction."

98,501 for LBJ

Late Bulletin

Collide Over Vienna

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Two light airplanes collided over Vienna today and crashed into a busy downtown section. First reports said five persons were killed.

The planes, whose nationality was not immediately known, collided at about 2,000 feet and exploded in the crash, the first reports said.

One plane, believed to have carried four persons, crashed into a block of apartment houses in the 7th city district of Vienna, setting the roof of one apartment house on fire.

Four bodies were recovered from the debris while firemen battled the blaze.

Rape Try Foiled, Intruder Throws Infant to Death

NEW YORK (AP)—A would-be rapist, his attack on a 9-year-old Brooklyn girl thwarted, snatched her infant brother from his crib Friday night and hurled him to his death from the roof of a four-story building, police reported.

They said that while the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julio Sanchez, were visiting next door, a young Negro entered the apartment through an unlocked door and tried to assault Sandra Sanchez.

The girl screamed and, she said, the intruder picked up her brother, Anthony, 11 months, and ran to the roof. The child's body was found in a rear courtyard. The man escaped.

Po'keepsie Town Police Book Six On Game Charges

Six workers in concessions at the Continental Shows, playing on Salt Point Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, were arrested Friday night by town police on charges of being common gamblers, involving games of chance.

Police Lieut. Paul Osterman told The Freeman, the games were seized by a detail of detectives and uniformed officers.

The defendants pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Donald Holden and each was fined $100 or 30 days in the Dutchess county jail. The fines were paid.

Lieut. Osterman identified the men as: Robert L. Presta, 34, of Miami, Fla.; Louis Nuskind, 55, of Richmond Hills; Joseph Desnoga, 55, also of Miami; Robert Dugan, 54, of Tampa, Fla.; William J. Spencer, 44, of Miami, and Alfred Rinaldi, 51, of Milford, Conn.

During the 10 days the Continental Shows played here, authorities made several arrests and closed shows featuring women performers.

Tribesmen Tell Of Record Toll In Laos Attack

MUONG CHA, Laos (AP) — Refugee Meo tribesmen who fled from Communist attacks in the remote northeast corner of Laos have told of severe casualties—possibly 1,000 dead among civilians alone.

If the reports prove anywhere near accurate, the losses could be the highest in Laos' civil war.

A U.S. aid official helping care for the Meos reaching the Muong Cha Valley said it would be two or three weeks before a true count could be made.

Stories of the bloody attacks and ambushes came from 2,500 Meos who have reached this area 145 air miles north of Vientiane.

Supervisor Mabie will contact the Census Bureau to determine the cost of a special census, and to also determine if other townships might want to participate in such a census to possibly lower the overall cost.

To Meet May 22
The Board passed a resolution requested by the State Department of Public Works establishing the official road mileage in the township. The state measured the town roads late last year. The official town road mileage in the Town of Esopus is 54.92 miles. The Esopus Board has a meeting scheduled with M. Nicholas Sinacori, District Engineer for the State D.P.W. for this area, in Poughkeepsie Friday, May 22. The board plans to discuss various road problems in the township at that time with Sinacori.

The purchase of a new heavy duty dump truck from Raftery's Garage, Kingston, was authorized. The truck will cost $8,086.56, is being purchased under a contract together with two similar vehicles, by the Ulster County Highways Department. The county vehicles were ordered as the result of competitive bidding and the Town Board said they could obtain a better price for one truck if it were added to the purchase of the county vehicles.

The Board authorized Emily W. Card, Town Clerk, to dispose of a number of old town records. The specified time for the keeping of the records in question had expired.

Asks Warning Device
It was announced that the Town Board, through the attorney for the town Charles H. Gaffney, had contacted the New York Central Railroad and requested the installation of a warning device on the Esopus Avenue rail crossing between Ulster Park and Esopus. A letter was received from Mr. C. F. Brochart, Ulster Park, protesting the increased number of billboards being erected along Route 9-W.

DeVal H. Dunbar, building inspector, reported the issuance of seven permits during April with a total valuation of the work to be undertaken of $55,640. Harry Mains, town fire marshal, reported on 14 inspection trips made during the past inspection period and the issuance of two violation reports, one to a residence in Connelly and one to a store in Port Ewen.

William J. C. Buddenhagen, chairman of the Board of Water Commissioners of the Port Ewen Water District, reported that the average daily usage of system users during April had been 136,780 gallons. Buddenhagen also reported that the new water treatment plant on the Hudson River to the system was more than half complete. The main, which is being laid along River Road, is expected to be connected to the present system within the next two weeks. Testing of the new plant is planned to commence the latter part of June.

Supervisor Mabie announced that the Commissioners of Ross Park, at a recent meeting, had selected DeVal H. Dunbar to be chairman and Mrs. Harriet Light to be secretary. The summer program at Ross Park or organized recreation for the children of the Township will start this year Monday, June 22.

Eye More State Aid
A discussion was also held by the Board on the advisability of taking an interim special federal census of the township in early 1965. Such a census would be at the mid-point between the regular 10-year federal census and the purpose of it would be to increase the per capita state aid to the township. Townships receive $3.55 per person in state aid each year.

The population of the Town of Esopus as the result of the 1960 census was 6,597. On the basis of the number of residential electric meters in the township at the time of the 1960 census and the number today, Supervisor Roger W. Mabie estimates the present population of the Town of Esopus to be approximately 7,150 and the projected population in 1965 to be in the neighborhood of 7,300.

New Paltz Will
Reformed Church, will officiate. Comments will be given by Mayor Henry DuBois of the Village of New Paltz and by Fred DuBois, former supervisor of the Town of New Paltz and presently county treasurer.

The 15 trustees of the Huguenot Historical Society will be present. They include Mrs. Ruth H. MacDowell, Miss Annette I. Young, Jay LeFevre, Howard H. Grimm, Joseph E. Hasbrouck, Jr., Paul D. Hasbrouck, Frank Freer Jr., William H. Freard, Walter Hasbrouck, Louis DuB. LeFevre, Andrew Snyder, Martin L. DuBois, Webb Kniffen, Harold Wood and Kenneth E. Hasbrouck.

Miller Satisfactory

M. Clifford Miller, of Elmenor Heights, Hurley, assistant superintendent of Kingston Consolidated Schools, was reported in satisfactory condition today in Kingston Hospital. He was taken to the hospital a week ago after he suffered an attack in his home. He was placed in an oxygen tent and reported in serious condition after his admission.

Albany Girl Dies From Injuries, 5 Other Are Hurt

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Sally J. Oakley, 19, of Averill Park, east of Albany, died early today in Mercy Hospital of injuries suffered in a two-car collision Friday night at the intersection of Routes 37 and 342, north of this Jefferson County community.

Five other persons were injured in the crash.

Listed in fair condition today in Mercy Hospital were: Kathleen Barto, 20, of Owego, driver of one car; Mary Walters, 19, of Holcomb; and Katherine J. Bulmer, 19, of Wilson.

Miss Walters and Miss Bulmer are students at Brockport State College, as was the dead girl.

The driver of the other auto, Roy Eliss, 40, and his wife, Jean, 20, of LaFargeville, were released after treatment.

State Police said the Barto vehicle, carrying the four girls, was eastbound on Route 342, and the Eliss auto was northbound on Route 37 when the crash occurred.

No summons were issued, pending investigation.

Ike Still Keeps Hands Off '64

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has again declined to endorse any individual for the Republican presidential nomination, saying he wants to be in a position "to soothe the ruffled feelings" during and after the convention.

He made the comment Friday night in an interview with Walter Cronkite on a Columbia Broadcasting System television network news show.

Esopus Studies Museums, Census
history museums are now located at Cornwall and Troy.

The committee proposing the project hopes that such a area natural history museum would serve as a nature center for young children, a new and dynamic classroom for school students, a research facility for college students and a repository for collections of scientific significance and amateurs alike.

The Esopus Town Board felt that possibly the former West Park School building and property might be suitable for the new group's needs, particularly in the beginning. The property is in the geographic area desired for the proposed museum's location by the sponsoring group, and is also virtually across the street from the former home of John Burroughs, one of the country's leading naturalists.

Burroughs, prior to his death in 1924, achieved considerable fame as a naturalist and author. Because of his fame as a naturalist, many people of note used to visit him at his home at West Park or at his retreat "Slab-sides" to the west of the hamlet. Famous personages who visited Burroughs at West Park included former President Theodore Roosevelt, Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford, Harvey Firestone, and others. The "Slab-sides Association" plans to hold its annual meeting at Burroughs' retreat next Saturday.

The Esopus Town Board plans to contact the state committee of the museum group to determine their possible interest. The West Park school property was given to the Town of Esopus by the Highland Central School District this past winter after the need for the property no longer existed for school purposes.

Water Worries Cuba
HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — The regime of Fidel Castro admits it is worried about an acute water shortage in Havana.

Faustino Perez, head of the Cuban Water Resources Institute, acknowledged government concern Friday but added, "This problem has been inherited and was not created by the revolution."

Havana newspapers blamed the shortage on a drought, inadequate water mains and daily leakage of 30 million gallons from damaged lines.

Deaths
PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Elizabeth F. Sinclair, 85, widow of Sinclair Oil Corp. founder Harry F. Sinclair, died Thursday night. She had been ill four months.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vladko Macek, 84, Croatian and Yugoslav political leader imprisoned by the Nazis during World War II, died of a heart attack Friday at his home. He had resided in Washington since 1947.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Waldo E. Fisher, 72, specialist in the economics of coal who served as a staff member of the U.S. Coal Commission and other national and international coal groups, died Friday. He was a professor emeritus at the University of Pennsylvania.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT GIFTS IF HONEYMOON IS LONG

Q: My fiancé and I will be leaving on our honeymoon immediately following the reception and will be away for two months. As most of the presents will be arriving too late for me to acknowledge them before the wedding, may I wait until my return to acknowledge them? Or would it be permissible to have printed thank-you cards made up beforehand which a member of my family could send out for me while we are away?

A: Printed thank-you cards would not do at all. If you will be unable to write notes of thanks while you are away, it would be permissible in your case, rather than keep friends and relatives waiting for two months wondering whether or not their gifts were received, to send printed cards acknowledging the receipt of the gift and stating that a personal note will be written at a later date.

Her Trip Has Been Cancelled

Q: My father's sudden death cancelled my European trip. I received quite a few going-away presents. Should these be returned?

A: If your trip has been temporarily postponed for a later date, you would keep the presents. If it has been cancelled indefinitely, they should be returned unless the friends ask you to keep them.

Eating an Open Grilled Cheese Sandwich

Q: Will you please tell me the correct way to eat an open grilled cheese sandwich? Should it be eaten with a knife and fork or may it be picked up and eaten in the fingers?

A: It should be eaten with a knife and fork.

20th Century Club

Twentieth Century Club met on Monday, May 11 with Mrs. Albert E. Bushnell at 20 Burgevin Street, Mrs. William Soper presiding. The meeting opened with the recitation of the Collect for Club Women, after which Mrs. Soper welcomed Mrs. Cloyd L. Elias into membership.

Mrs. Bushnell's study paper for the day was a brief history of the West Parish Church and meeting house at West Barnstable, Cape Cod, Mass. In the year 1616 a small group of men and women gathered in the borough of Southwark, on the south side of the River Thames, just across London Bridge from the City of London. Joining hands, they solemnly covenanted with one another in the presence of Almighty God to walk together in all His ways and ordinances according as he had revealed them in his word, or should further make them known. This Southwark church was not the first independent or separatist church to be gathered in England. It was, however, the first independent (Congregational) church that was to survive to the present time. In the record of the Revere Brass Co., Canton, Mass. is stated that in 1806, P. Revere & Son made for the Town of Barnstable a bell of the total weight of 922 pounds. The bell, now in the steeple of the meetinghouse bears in large letters the name, "REVERE." It was given to the town by Colonel James Otis, famous patriot of the American Revolution.

The meeting on May 26 will begin with a banquet, convene for election of officers and a social evening at the home of Mrs. Warren A. Russell on Burgevin Street.

Dear Abby . . .

Never Let It Be Said!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You burn me up! Why do you always take the man's side when wives complain that their retired husbands won't leave them alone? You are greatly in the dark about the habits of retired husbands and how exasperating they can be. Why do you always go to bat for the man? I hope your husband retires and objects to your pecking away at the typewriter; that you never have a minute you can call your own, and that he will be underfoot every step you take. The retired husband who does absolutely nothing can drive his wife crazy. That is my problem. My husband won't let me out of his sight. If I am gone for twenty minutes, he comes looking for me. I am a wreck from my husband's retirement. Men who retire should not bury themselves alive and expect their wives to inhabit the grave with them. Every woman needs a little aloneness. Why not give these lounge monarchs a little advice, too?

RETIRED MAN'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: So frequently have I advised retired men to volunteer their services to a worthwhile charity, to interest themselves in church work, civic affairs, politics, gardening, sports, and to make a few friends of their own so they won't be under their wives' feet from sunup 'til sundown, that I fear I have begun to sound like a broken record.

DEAR ABBY: I have always regretted not getting a college diploma. I started in the university, but I quit in my freshman year. I am now 33 years old, and I figured out that if I take courses three evenings a week it will take me eight years to get my diploma. And in eight years I will be 41 years old. Should I?

WANTS A DIPLOMA
DEAR WANTS: And how old will you be in eight years if you DON'T take the courses?

DEAR ABBY: Last week someone poisoned our dog, and if a member of our family had died I don't think I could have felt worse. Our poor dog suffered for days, and we spent a lot of money on vets and buying him pills, only to lose him in the end. I held that sick dog in my arms when he died, and it about tore my heart out to see the pain and agony in his eyes. Why, oh, why do people poison pets, Abby? I think a pet poisoner should be tried for murder.

A DAILY READER

DEAR READER: Poisoning a pet, anybody's pet, for whatever reason, is inhumane and inexcusable. But dog owners contribute to the innocent delinquency of their pets when they let them make nuisances of themselves — and prey to the poisoner.

DEAR ABBY: I go with a widow. She is past 60 and so am I. I enjoy her company, but she has a terrible habit. When I take her out to dinner, she opens up her handbag and dumps in all the bread, rolls, crackers and biscuits on the table. She says she will enjoy them for breakfast, and since I am paying for the food served to us, she is entitled to them. I get very much annoyed, and have been tempted to walk out and leave her sitting there. Please print this and tell her that nice people don't do things like that in nice restaurants. Thanks.

B. K.
DEAR B. K.: Warn her once more, and if she doesn't quit, look for someone who is better-bred.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WISH I DIDN'T KNOW" IN PHILADELPHIA: I urge you to tell her mother. If she were YOUR daughter, wouldn't you want to know?

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Rondout Valley Students Vote For Officers

Through the offer of Don Schoonmaker and Town of Rochester Supervisor Franklin Kelder, senior high students, grades 10-12, used an actual voting machine for casting their ballots for their choices for Student Council. Students in grades 7-9 cast their ballots on paper during home room.

The slate of candidates was nominated during class meetings held April 28. Tuesday, May 5, the nominees gave their nomination speeches in the gymnasium to the entire student body. Candidates for Student Council offices are:

President, Bob Cairo, Carla Dembo, Mike Reed.

Vice President, Cecce Derringer, Efron Lentner, Sally Shell.

Secretary, Barbara Lawrence, Clarence Miller, Cathy Mills, Sharon Tsontarides.

Treasurer, Karen Evans, Nancy Schoonmaker, Jim Skillen. Judge, Grey DeWitt, Charles George, Sue Levine.

An announcement of the successful candidates will be made during traditional Move-Up Day Ceremony Friday, May 29.

Tuesday, May 12, students grades 7-12 voted for respective class officers during home room. Successful candidates will be announced on Move-Up Day.

Ontoora High P-TA to Install New Officers

New officers will be installed by the Ontoora P-TA at its final meeting of the school year Tuesday, May 19, at 8 p. m. in the Boiceville school cafeteria.

Mrs. Ann Laris, a member of the Ontoora Board of Education, will install the officers for the 1964-65 school year. Year end reports will be submitted by the chairmen of major committees and a large attendance is urged.

The new officers are: president, Frank MacMartin, West Shokan; first vice president, Mrs. Paul Williams, Woodstock; second vice president, Jerry Wemple, Shokan; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Horsey, Woodstock; recording secretary, Mrs. Wesley John, West Shokan; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Joseph Toczydowski, West Hurley.

Exchange Program

The program for the evening might be called an "Exchange Students' Exchange." Three student will trade impressions as past, present and future exchange pupils. Miss Donna Matthews of Red Hook, who spent last year attending school in Turkey, Sener Ozer of Konya, Turkey, currently a student at Ontoora, and Miss Wendy Hyatt, who will go abroad this summer, will discuss the American Field Society program. Huber, Breitenberger will act as moderator.

A special invitation is issued to all area high school students to attend this meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Scholarship Drive

The Ontoora High School P-TA wishes to thank all those who have contributed to the current scholarship drive. Although many new contributors have responded to the appeal letter, the fund is still somewhat short of its goal.

The scholarship committee urges that some of the long-time donors who have not yet sent in their usual amount to please do so as soon as possible. The committee points out that this fund directly benefits the students in the Ontoora Central school system and is an excellent long-term investment.

Contributions may be sent to the Scholarship Fund, care of J. Robert Daggett, central school, Boiceville, or to Rudy Frank, Shandaken. As stated in the appeal letter "no contribution is too small" to be gratefully received.

Colossal, Word On Census Plan

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The first do-it-yourself census in a large metropolitan U.S. area produced a response one official called "colossal" today.

The counting-by-mail project brought a flood of census forms into the Louisville Post Office Thursday.

By midnight, some 160,000 of the 240,000 forms mailed had been returned.

The census area covered Jefferson County (Louisville) and two counties across the Ohio River in Indiana, Clark and Floyd.

This was the first do-it-yourself venture into the big leagues of population. Earlier censuses were held in smaller cities, John Baker, bureau information officer said, but first-day response was less than here.

Always Milestone, Rocky Says of School Decision

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller says the 1954 decision of the U.S. Supreme Court against segregation in public education "will forever be a milestone in the history of our nation's endeavor to provide constitutional rights for all citizens."

The governor called the decision a "logical sequel to the path - breaking action" of the New York Legislature in 1945 in banning discrimination in employment because of race, creed, color of national origin.

Rockefeller's comments were contained in a statement issued Friday by his office here in observance of the 10th anniversary Sunday of the court's ruling.

The action of the Legislature referred to by the governor was enactment of the Ives - Quinn Law. Besides prohibiting job discrimination, the law also established the State Commission against Discrimination.

Since passage of the Ives-Quinn Law, Rockefeller said, the state's laws have been "amended and amplified to protect the citizens of our state from discrimination."

Armless Woman Now Mother of Girl

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—An armless housewife, once known to Georgia railroad men as the "child who waves without hands," gave birth to an 8-pound, 2-ounce girl at an Atlanta hospital Friday night.

Eighteen years ago, the former Grace Purcell, now Mrs. Harold E. Parker, waved to train engineers with the stubs for arms she has had from birth. She lived near Lovejoy, Ga., and a newspaper campaign raised money for artificial arms when she was six.

Now 20, she has discarded the artificial limbs.

Girl Drowns, Left Unattended in Tub

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Roberta Ann Livingston, 1, was drowned in a bathtub Friday night when she was left unattended for a few moments by an 11-year-old sister who was giving her a bath, police said.

Police said her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Livingston, of Buffalo, told them she left her four younger daughters in the care of the 11-year-old while she went out.

The girl said she placed Roberta and a 2-year-old sister in the bathtub at the same time, police said, and went to look for another sister. When she returned a few moments later, she found Roberta floating on top of the water, police said.

PROCLAIMS KIWANIS ROSE DAY—Mayor John J. Schwenk signs proclamation designating June 13 as "Kiwanis Rose Day" in Kingston, urging cooperation with the public-spirited organization in its efforts to raise funds for its work in public service programs in behalf of community youth and health agencies. The proclamation said, "every wife, mother and sweetheart in our city should be honored with a bouquet of roses" on designated Kiwanis Rose Day. Present for signing of proclamation in mayor's office were, from the left, Lloyd LeFever, Kiwanis Club president; Mayor Schwenk; Frank H. Reis, rose committee chairman for Kiwanis; and Michael Starkman, public relations chairman. (Freeman photo)

State to Inspect Boys School at Highland Tuesday

The New York State Board of Social Welfare will inspect new facilities at the Highland State Training School for Boys at Highland, Tuesday, May 19, Superintendent Frederick S. Appleton announced today.

The new construction is part of a continuing program of needed expansion of state training school facilities. Additional construction at Highland planned for this year, will include three more cottages and a storage building.

The Highland training school receives boys under 13 years of age who have been adjudicated by the Family Courts to be delinquent or otherwise in need of supervision. The average population of the institution is 225.

Boys released from Highland are supervised in their own homes, or in foster homes, by youth parole workers. At the present time, 236 boys are on parole from Highland.

A team of professional staff members at the school determines each boy's rehabilitative and other needs. All the boys attend all day classes in the elementary school program conducted at the institution with special emphasis on remedial reading.

Officially the trip is a fishing vacation aboard the presidential yacht Hourryia, complete with the Nasser and Khrushchev families.

However, Algeria's President Ahmed Ben Bella and Iraqi President Abdel Salam Aref also went along. It was doubtful that all these political personalities would stick to fishing.

A curtain of secrecy descended as soon as Nasser, Khrushchev and Aref flew off from Aswan, where they participated in ceremonies Thursday marking completion of the first stage of the Aswan High Dam.

Ben Bella flew from Cairo Thursday night to join the group. He was followed by Egyptian Premier Aly Sabry and other Egyptian officials.

CR Stand Is Firm At Syracuse Univ.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Syracuse University is firmly committed to a policy "not to schedule segregationist institutions" in athletic competition, the university chancellor says.

Chancellor William P. Tolley said Friday he was speaking out to clarify the university's commitment to the widest possible extension of human freedom.

Tolley's statement followed a policy decision Wednesday by the Syracuse University Board of Athletics to give "equal weight, as a factor in scheduling, to the concerns with regard to playing segregated schools."

The board said its existing schedules, which in some cases extend into 1970, would be fulfilled.

The Athletic Board last February turned down a request by civil rights groups that athletic ties with schools practicing racial segregation be severed.

In the wake of that action, the civil rights groups were joined in their call for such a ban by the Faculty Senate and the Joint Student Legislature.

Tolley said the board's statement this week was "phrased carefully so as not to commit the university to a general position of disassociation involving non-athletic matters."

He would not elaborate.

All of the university's activities are integrated. Some of the most widely known undergraduates have been Negroes. They include professional football star Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns, and the late Ernie Davis, the only Negro to win the Heisman Trophy, awarded each year to the outstanding college football player.

Boy Dies of Injuries

Area Groups Discuss Farm Waste Disposal

Farm Waste Disposal was the theme of a meeting held recently in the Town of Rochester clerk's office, attended by the Town Board, representatives of the Rochester Planning Board, the Towns of Wawarsing and Marletown and local industries.

Guest speakers included Robert Guzewich, Ulster County Agricultural agent; Earl Wilde, Sullivan County Agricultural agent; Professor Charles Osterhander of Cornell University; Harry Edinger of the Ulster County Board of Health, and Walter Perrett, who represented the feed industry.

The session was termed very informative. It was decided to study the subject further and to schedule another meeting.

Cruise Red Sea

CAIRO (AP)—Premier Khrushchev cruised the Red Sea Saturday with President Gamal Abdel Nasser, leaving the world to wonder whether they were talking politics or just telling fish stories.

Voluntary Health Workers Lauded By TB Speaker

One hundred attended the fifty-fifth annual dinner and meeting of the Ulster County TB and Health Association Thursday night at the Capri Restaurant at Port Ewen. Guest speaker was Dr. Frank C. Maxon Jr., whose subject was "Current Problems in Respiratory Diseases" covering problems of tuberculosis, problems of smoking and air pollution and the serious need for better understanding chronic respiratory disease by the physician and by the public.

"Every disease that affects our society must have its champions," he noted, "and the voluntary health association must continue as one of the oldest that has done its work well in the field of health."

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., association president, presided. Guest vocalist was John McCullough, president of the Community Concert Association, accompanied by John J. Boti.

Certificates Awarded

Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, chairman of the Association's Respiratory Disease Committee presented the National Certificate of Honor of the National School Press Project to the Bennett Banner of the Reginald P. Bennett Elementary School and the Highland Fling of the Highland High School. The Association sponsors the project in Ulster County on behalf of the National Tuberculosis Association and Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Jessie Wolf, editor, accepted for the Bennett Banner, and Michelle Morano, editor, accepted for the Highland Fling. Mrs. Emma Argulewicz and Robert Wattlewicz, school advisers also were present.

Directors Named

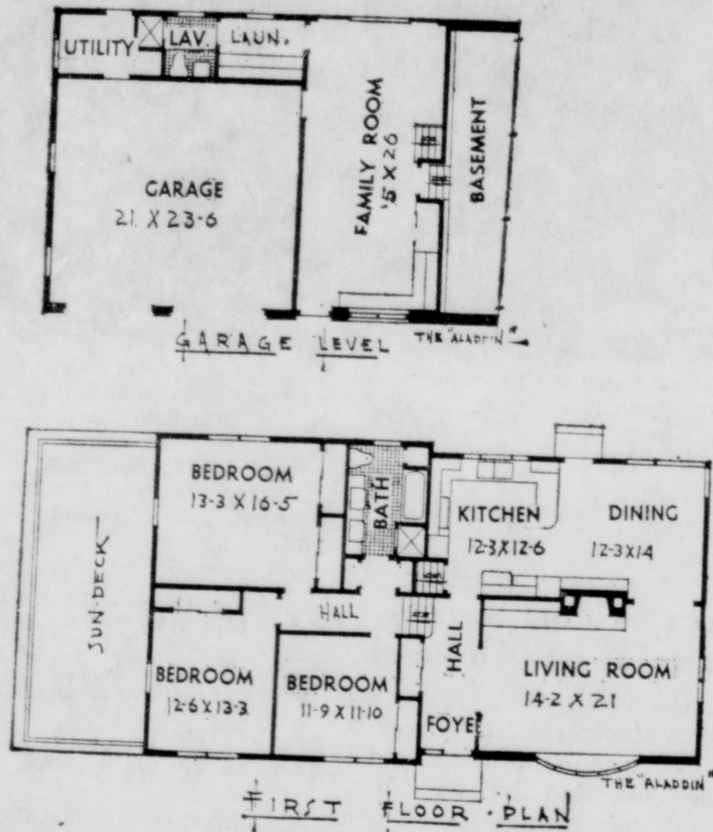

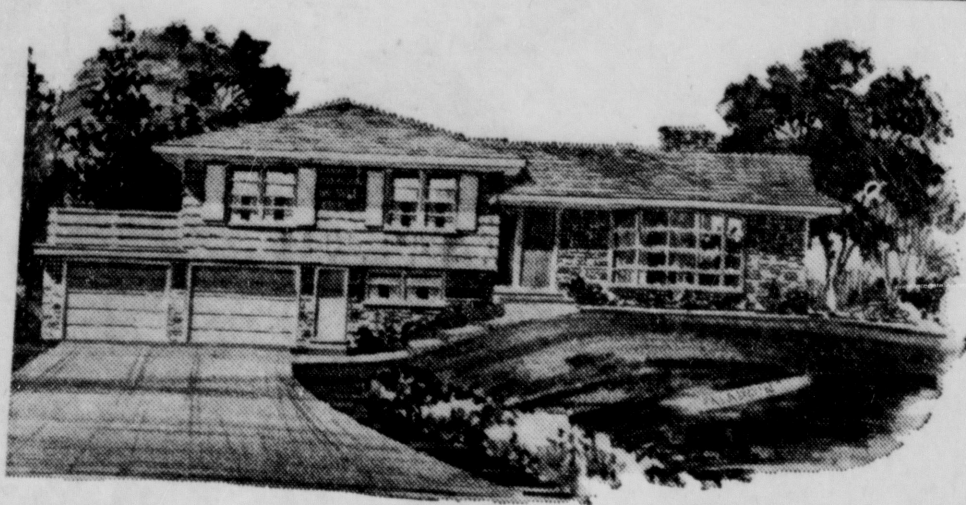

During the business sessions, report of the nomination committee for election of board of directors was made by Mrs. William H. vanBenschoten, chairman. The following members of board of directors were made for 1964-1965: Miss Rose Marie Feeney; for 1964-1967: Mrs. S. James Matthews, Fred H. DuBois, Henry C. Eichelmann, MD, Milton M. Grover MD, Judge Raymond J. Mino, Augustus P. Modjeska, John M. Robbins, John R. Roberts, MD, Frederick W. Robinson, Edward F. Shea, MD, Miss Kathleen L. Shurter, RN, Miss Katherine T. Terwilliger and Reverend George D. Wood.

Dr. Holcomb discussed steps being taken and fully supported by the Association for the adjustment of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital for both tuberculosis patients and those with chronic chest problems.

Invocation was given by Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, Temple Emanuel and Benediction pronounced by the Rev. Roger M. Leonard, New Paltz Reformed Church.

Popular Tri-Level Home Is Rated Good Investment

The degree of popularity with which American families have received the tri-level dwelling is assurance that this type structure has become permanently fixed in the hearts of homeowners, as a good investment.

The division of living and sleeping areas between levels gives additional function value to split-level home planning, in terms of convenience as well as well regulated traffic which is aptly illustrated in today's design called the "Aladdin."

Accessibility is a keynote throughout the planning of the "Aladdin."

The spacious living room suffers none of the burden of heavy traffic, thanks to the wide foyer-hall that runs through the main level from the front entrance to the kitchen and stairs that lead to the sleeping quarters.

While the dining area may serve as an extension of the living room, it possesses its own distinction with the help of a bar separator extending from the kitchen wall, while it draws charm from the big window corner.

The first, or garage level, features a large back to front family room with sliding doors (glass) to the rear, laundry room, lavatory and a tool room with entries from the grounds and two car garage. Exterior planning calls for a stone, brick or split-crete front with cedar shingles.

Older the Better

One of the unique characteristics of a natural building material like ceramic floor and wall tile is its improvement with age. All ceramic tile — whether glazed, unglazed or quarry — looks better as time passes, because of the conscious and subconscious comparison the eye constantly makes with synthetic materials. Unglazed tiles in particular grow more mellow after years of use on floors. This graceful aging is known in the ceramic tile trade as "foot polish."

Double Shortening Makes Rich Coup

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

J. Edward Morrow was the bridge editor of the Dallas News 30 years ago when I moved to Dallas. He retired 15 years ago and now lives in Joplin, Mo., where he still plays an occasional bridge game.

He writes: "Here is a double trump coup that I played recently in a duplicate in Neosho, Tex. 'My partner's seven-heart bid was enthusiastic, to say the least, but after I won the first trick with dummy's ace of diamonds and the nine of trumps held the second, things seemed to be looking up. I led dummy's eight of trumps for another finesse and West dropped a diamond. Things were looking bad once more."

"There was hope if I could shorten myself twice and then develop a coup against East, so I went after it. I ruffed one of dummy's diamonds and then proceeded to cash three club tricks winding up in dummy. Then I led and ruffed dummy's last diamond. East discarded a spade. He had nothing better to do. I cashed dummy's ace-king-queen of spades while East followed

Oscar and Emmy To Get Together On May 25 Show

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Oscar and Emmy are finally going to get together.

The meeting will take place on the annual Television Academy Awards telecast May 25, and it will be strictly for laughs. The opening sketch will show an actor's mantle, on which are displayed an Oscar and an Emmy. Dissolve. The pair become Dick Van Dyke and Mary Tyler Moore who then engage in a wry discussion about their mutual problems.

Permission to portray Oscar took some doing. Consent finally came from the Motion Picture Academy people, who apparently realized the skit might help displace some of Oscar's over-sensitiveness.

Have Become Stuffy

The Oscars have become institutionalized and stuffy. They are handed out in a cold auditorium and the only real liveliness comes at the Oscar ball, which isn't televised.

The Emmy affair has always seemed like a warm family party — sometimes chaotic, as such parties can be. The guests usually gather around dining tables in a festive atmosphere, as members of the Motion Picture Academy did in its early days.

The atmosphere may be a bit strained this year, in view of this week's blasts against the academy by CBS News and ABC. But most of the stars and other creators are independent contractors who are not necessarily affected by the networks' views.

Robert Finkel, who is producing the Emmy show for NBC, aims to preserve the party spirit.

Cites Emmy Kidding

"The Oscars are much too serious," says he. "I see the Emmy show not only as a time to honor our best achievements, but also to kid the industry."

Besides the Van Dyke and Moore sketch, the show will feature a Carl Reiner interview with the 2,000-year-old man Mel Brooks — and some barbs by the "That Was The Week That Was" troupe. Finkel also is planning a collection of scenes from past Emmys.

The show will originate from the Palladium here, Joey Bishop emceed, and the Texas Pavilion at the New York World's Fair, E. G. Marshall, Washington won't get a look-in this year. "The origination cost $25,000 and we found we had to send New York," Finkel explained.

Boat Owner Fined After Lake Mishap

ROUSE POINT, N.Y. (AP) — A $25 fine has been levied against the operator of a boat that capsized in Lake Champlain during a storm Thursday. One of the boat's occupants drowned.

John J. Pelkey, 24, of Rouses Point, pleaded guilty before a justice of the peace Friday to a charge of operating a boat with no life preservers, warning devices or lights.

The body of Donald H. Murray, 40, of Rouses Point, who was lost when the 14-foot boat was overturned by high waves, was recovered Friday.

Pelkey and Frederick P. Martin, 21, also of Rouses Point, were rescued by State Police as they clung to the overturned craft.

The three men had been camping at Coopersville, south of here, and went out in the boat late at night.

Members will accommodate boat owners by issuing an U.S.C.G.A. decal if their boat passes examination. This is done free of charge as a public service. The auxiliary also has available pamphlets and leaflets covering all phases of boating from the smallest to the largest pleasure boats afloat, as well as a limited number of applications for citizenship band transmitter operations. Membership applications are also available at the auxiliary headquarters at Dover's Boat Basin, Abell and Ravine Streets, Kingston. The organization meets the first and third Thursdays of the month.

Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., said Friday he had turned down the request from the New York Congressional Steering Committee because he did not believe that "a formal committee inquiry into this matter is warranted."

He made his view known in a letter to the steering committee.

New York State plans to build a reactor, similar to the one planned for Aberdeen, at the Malta Test Station north of Schenectady.

The New York request for an investigation followed a report by Oliver Townsend, chairman of the New York State Atomic Research and Development Authority, that the Army's reactor would be identical to the one planned by New York. As a result, the two reactors would be directly competitive.

Veterans Rights, Benefits Listed

By Charles Culver, State Veterans Counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, and John Tyler, Director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 4 Hurley Avenue, Kingston, office hours, Monday through Friday, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Insurance—Veterans who are drawing retirement pay can request the branch of the service with which they are connected to make out an allotment from their retirement pay to cover their GI insurance premiums payment. This saves time and expense and guards against a lapsed policy.

Discharges—There is a uniformity in the various branches of service in the types of discharge. Five types are issued: Honorable; General under honorable conditions; Undesirable; Bad conduct; Dishonorable.

Bonus—Next of Kin Clause—If the death of a WW II veteran occurred while he was on active duty with the Armed Forces of the United States at any time between December 7, 1941 and September 2, 1945, and this death was not due to misconduct on his part the benefit is $250. If his death occurred after separation from the Armed Services, the next of kin is entitled to what the veteran would have collected had the veteran lived to present the application in person. The WW II Bonus Program terminates March 31, 1965. After that deadline date no applications will be accepted unless qualified persons can prove they were incapable of previously applying because of physical or mental incapacity.

It is difficult to estimate how many eligible persons have not yet applied for the bonus. Among the reasons why individuals have not applied during the past 16 years are: that many New York State veterans took up residence outside of the State after the war and some were physically or mentally incapacitated.

Civil Service—There are two classes of veteran preference—5 point and 10 point. Five-point preference is given to honorably separated veterans who served on active duty in the armed forces of the United States during any war, or during the period April 28, 1952, through July 1, 1956, or in any campaign or expedition for which a campaign badge or service medal has been authorized.

CG Auxiliary Is To Visit Marinas On Boat Safety

Officials of the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary said today that members will visit area marinas or boat clubs to answer questions about boat safety and to make courtesy inspections.

George B. Wiegert, publication officer for the auxiliary, urged boat owners and operators to make sure that their crafts were in safe condition by having Coast Guard-approved life jackets and other safety devices aboard. If any boatmen were in doubt about his equipment, Wiegert said, he may get in contact with a member of the U.S.C.G. Auxiliary which will discuss any problems about craft and equipment safety.

Wheat Registry Date Extended To Friday, May 22

The application period for participation in the 1964 federal wheat program, including price support loans, has been extended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to Friday, May 22, it was announced today.

Joseph Sauer, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Office, said that if a producer desires to get price support loans, plus acreage diversion payments and certificates based on his share in the domestic and export market, he must sign up before that date, which is an extension of one week over the original sign-up date, to be a program cooperator.

To become a cooperator, a wheat producer remains within his acreage allotment, devotes his diverted acres to conserving uses and fulfills the program's other requirements. The "domestic" certificates will have a fixed face value of 70 cents per bushel and the "export" one will be worth 25 cents a bushel. They will be based on a percentage of the farms normal production of the wheat acreage within the allotment.

Thus, a program cooperator receiving a price support loan and certificates will receive a national average return of $2.00 per bushel for his domestic share, and $1.55 for his export share, provided his yield is equal to his normal production and he has the minimum qualifying diversion. This is one-third more than he would have received in the absence of the new legislation enacted for this year's crop. Had the new program not been enacted, wheat would have had only price support loans at $1.26 per bushel average for those staying within their allotments, the local agency said.

A PRAYER FOR PEACE
O God of love, O King of peace,
Make wars throughout the world to cease;
The wrath of sinful man restrain,
Give peace, O God, give peace
again!
Remember, Lord, thy works of old,
The wonders that our fathers told;
Remember not our sin's dark

Give peace, O God, give peace
again!
Whom shall we trust but thee,
O Lord?
Where rest but on thy faithful

Port Jervis Wallops Kingston, 7-2, in DUSO Struggle

Raiders Move Into Top Spot With Key Win

Striking for quick runs in the first two frames, Port Jervis moved into first place in the DUSO league chase with a 7-2 win over visiting Kingston High yesterday.

Standings:	Team	Won	Lost

5	Newburgh	1	3

While mighty Joe Nolan scattered seven hits, his mates combed loser Brian Bach and relief chucker Gene Rios for eight.

Bach gave up three runs in the opening session and another in the second before giving way to Rios. The swift lefty was tagged for a solo marker in the fourth and two in the fifth.

Coach Al Gruner's nine rebounded in the sixth when Rod DeVau singled with two outs to ignite a rally. Mike Canning followed with a double and Marsh Suskie and Joe Amendola singled. However, the rally stumped there.

A snappy double play pulled Nolan out of a possible jam in the seventh frame.

Kingston will try to resume its winning way by playing at Middletown on Monday. The locals are 7-3 for the season.

Overtrick Paces 2:00 1-5 Mile

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Overtrick turned in a record performance in posting a length and a quarter victory over Adora's Dream in the $25,000 World's Fair Pace Friday night before 31,334 at Yonkers Raceway.

John Patterson drove the 4-year-old son of Solicitor to the win in 2:00 1-5 the fastest time on a half-mile track this season.

Overtrick, owned by Mrs. Leonard J. Buck of Far Hills, N.J., returned $320, $280 and $240 across the board.

Henry T. Adios was third. At Buffalo Raceway, Crystal Newport won the featured $3,000 trot by half a length over Grace Frost.

Tom Dufford drove the horse to victory in 2:05 3-5 for pay-offs of $22.40, $9.60 and $3.00.

Caserto's No-Hitter Halts Highland Club, 3-1, in 8th

Vince Caserto fired a no-hitter but it took Marlboro eight innings to subdue Highland, 3-1, in a pivotal UCAL game yesterday at the losers' diamond.

The Duke lefty was almost matched serve for by Tom Gruner, the Highland mound ace. In fact, but for an error, Caserto would have been beaten, 1-0, in regulation play.

Highland tallied a run in the fourth on a walk to Steve Sorce, a sacrifice and a wild pitch. The way Gruner was hurling, that marker looked big. Caserto, a solid hitting pitcher, began the top of the sixth with a booming triple. Rod Aurigemma, a solid hitting pitcher, and Caserto headed for home. He made it because the ball was fumbled.

The Dukes, held to only two hits for seven frames, doubled that total in the eighth. After Gruner walked Aurigemma, Highland put two runners on base in the last of the eighth, giving him 19 strikeouts for his afternoon's performance.

With the victory, Marlboro has a two-game bulge over the other contenders in the loss column as the Dukes strive for a second straight circuit title.

Stallard, Mets Top SF Giants

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
"I hope Snider gets to play and I get to pitch. I'll show him what kind of an easy club we are."

Tracy Stallard, 26-year-old right-hander of the New York Mets, got his wish—he pitched to Snider.

But San Francisco's 37-year-old veteran lined a pinch single and knocked in the Giants' first run in the fifth inning Friday night.

The Mets, however, still showed Snider and the Giants what kind of team they are by winning their third straight game, 4-2.

Stallard uttered his wish a month ago after the Mets sold Snider to the Giants. Upon departing, Snider remarked that the Mets were a terrible club and that he couldn't get inspired to play his best with a poor team.

Stallard quickly and bitterly came to his team's defense, asserting Snider "loaded all the time" while with the Mets and "tried to live on his reputation."

The Mets were leading 2-0 and Stallard was pitching a two-hitter when Snider batted for Bob Bolin Friday night. Jim Davenport had tripled and Jose Pagan had walked. Snider hit Stallard's first pitch into right field, sending Davenport home.

The Giants didn't get any more hits off Stallard, but the angry young Met had to leave the game after six innings because his arm stiffened in the chilly weather.

Elsewhere in the National League, Los Angeles drubbed Pittsburgh 6-0. Philadelphia blanked Houston 4-0. St. Louis whipped Milwaukee 10-6 and Cincinnati belted Chicago 10-5.

Two in the Eighth
The Giants tied the game in the fifth as Pagan scored on an infield out, but the Mets won it in the eighth with two runs. Joe Christopher walked, and Jim Hickman singled to left. They advanced on a sacrifice, then scored on Charlie Smith's double to left-center field.

Hickman, clouted a two-run homer in the second for the Mets' first two runs.

The Dodgers won their third straight game behind Phil Ortega's five-hit pitching and Willie Davis' hitting. Ortega, hurling his second major league shutout and his second triumph, struck out eight and walked four.

Davis drove in three runs, one in the Dodgers' four-run fourth when the Pirates committed three errors.

Denny Bennett stopped the Colts on five hits as he picked up his fourth victory in six decisions. The 24-year-old left-hander struck out six and walked only one. He also singled home the Phillies' first run in the second inning. They added three runs in the seventh, two on Richie Allen's single.

Julian Javier's grand slam home run in the first touched off a home-run spree for St. Louis. Jeff Long connected with a man aboard in the seventh before Charley James hit his second bases-empty blow of the game. Lee Maye belted a two-run homer for the Braves.

Cincinnati spoiled Larry Jackson's bid for his fifth straight victory, erupting for six runs in the third. The Reds banged out four singles and two doubles in the inning. Frank Robinson homered with one aboard in the second for the Reds while Billy Williams and Andre Rodgers homered for the Cubs.

Democrats Plan Hearing Monday

A public hearing in advance of submitting views on national affairs to the Democratic National Convention, will be held Monday, May 18, at 10:30 a. m. at the Lamplighters Hall, Phillips Road, New York City, it was announced by Aaron E. Klein, Ulster County Democratic chairman.

The convention will be held in Atlantic City on Aug. 24. Klein said the New York City session has been called by the Platform and Resolutions Committee of the State Democratic Party.

The Platform and Resolutions committee has welcomed the view of all groups in individuals in New York State on matters of national interest so that they may be aided in the preparation of the 1964 platform of the Democratic Party, Klein said.

Those wishing to avail themselves of this opportunity to make their views known are urged to attend the public hearing on Monday, Klein stated.

Plans Are Given On $110 Million West Point Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—A modernization program for the U.S. Military Academy at West Point costing $110 million and extending through 1972 is planned by the Army.

President Johnson has asked Congress for $20.9 million to start a major part of the program in the fiscal year that begins July 1. The sum includes $18.4 million to expand and modernize the Washington Hall Barracks complex.

The Army outlined its plans recently to a House Appropriations Subcommittee. The testimony was made public Friday.

The peak year during the eight-year program will be the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1965, when the Army says it will seek $24.6 million for the academy.

Besides modernizing the base, which first was occupied in 1778, the program will provide for accommodating an increased number of cadets. The total student enrollment in 1967 is expected to be about 4,250 men, about 800 more than the present enrollment.

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference, conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, Friday, May 22, from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio.

Auto Plants Hum

Automobile plants hummed with activity during the week as an estimated 176,900 passenger cars rolled off assembly lines, compared with 162,063 a year ago.

Production would have been higher had it not been for a work stoppage at Ford Motor Co.'s Lorain, Ohio, plant.

Ward's Automotive Reports, a trade publication, predicted that U.S. automakers would turn out 7.9 million cars in the 1964 model run, exceeding the current

Workers Return After Joe Louis Mediates Accord

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Forty employees of two truck car wash establishments planned to go back to work today after Joe Louis, former world heavyweight boxing champion, mediated a strike settlement.

Louis arrived here Friday to talk with management and employees. He came at the request of Ray Hickok of Rochester, a sportsman who owns the two local car washes.

The settlement will result in a union contract for the employees, a spokesman for the textile workers (AFL-CIO) said. He said the union had been recognized at the two establishments and that the workers would return to work today. Details of the settlement were not divulged.

"This was my first try as a labor mediator and it didn't take me as long as it took President Johnson to settle the railroad strike," Louis said in obvious good humor.

Louis, who now operates a public relations firm in New York City and referees wrestling matches on the side, observed his 50th birthday Wednesday.

Imposters Rob Woman HEWLETT, N.Y. (AP)—A couple posing as jobseekers and a man who joined them later, robbed a woman of $150,000 worth of jewelry, cash and furs Friday and escaped in her Cadillac convertible.

Police gave this account: Mrs. Sam Sperling, 59, returned home to interview the couple, who had told the maid, Mrs. Ida Hartley, 48, they were there for jobs as domestics.

The couple then announced a pickup and were joined by the other man.

Mrs. Sperling was forced to open a wall safe, then she and Mrs. Hartley were bound to kitchen chairs with strips from the maid's apron.

Both men and the woman wore dark glasses.

Kissing Excuse Goes Too CARTHAGE, Ill. (AP)—Carthage College is moving to Kenosha, Wis., this summer and the males are taking along their 2 1/2-ton excuse for kissing girls.

For 51 years, college tradition has had it that coeds caught sitting on a large chunk of granite situated on the campus were obliged to submit a quick, but firm, buss.

Today, some 50 fraternity men, equipped with a wrecker will hoist the 2 1/2-ton rock on a truck and head north to the new campus on the shores of Lake Michigan.

Approves Air Hops OTTAWA (AP)—The Air Transport Board has approved the application of Air Lease Inc., of Fredonia, N.Y., to operate non-scheduled commercial charter flights into Canada.

The board, in announcing the decision Friday, said Air Lease would operate from Dunkirk, N.Y., into Ontario and Quebec, principally to Toronto, Ottawa, London and Montreal.

SET FOR PORT EWEN SCHOOL FAIR—

Teachers and pupils at Port Ewen Elementary School are concluding plans for observance of school's second annual Prose and Poetry Fair next week in the school gymnasium. Pupils Ricky Griggs, left, and Lynette Griffin present program to Mrs. John Brinnier, first grade teacher, and Lester Quint, fifth grade teacher. Fair will highlight a meeting of the PTA at 8 p. m. Wednesday when public may view samples of writings by the pupils. There will also be an exhibit of pupils' art work, according to Robert Graves, school principal.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The automobile and steel industries continue to march shoulder to shoulder at the head of the business parade.

The production pace shows little sign of slackening until seasonal factors take over.

Auto Plants Hum Automobile plants hummed with activity during the week as an estimated 176,900 passenger cars rolled off assembly lines, compared with 162,063 a year ago.

Production would have been higher had it not been for a work stoppage at Ford Motor Co.'s Lorain, Ohio, plant.

Ward's Automotive Reports, a trade publication, predicted that U.S. automakers would turn out 7.9 million cars in the 1964 model run, exceeding the current record of 7.34 million set by the 1963s.

Sales continued to run ahead of last year in the first 10 days of May, when dealers sold 194,196 American-made cars. The daily selling rate was 1.5 percent ahead of a year earlier.

Steel production reached an 11-month peak during the week, when 2,492,000 tons of ingots were poured. Mills ran at an estimated 80 percent of capacity.

In the first 19 weeks of this year, output totaled 44,003,000 tons against 41,864,000 in the like periods of 1963.

Faces Manpower Shortage Fast-paced operations were reported lifting employment in the steel industry. Inland Steel Co. said it was encountering a shortage of available manpower.

The nation's industrial production in April posted the biggest gain in almost a year. This resulted from an increase in the output of iron and steel, automobiles, furniture and other consumer goods.

The Federal Reserve's index of industrial production climbed from 128.2 in March to 129.2. It was the first time this barometer has gained a full point in one month since mid-1963.

Retail Sales Dip The Commerce Department reported that retail sales dipped in April for the second straight month. The total of $21,244,000,000 compared with $21,305,000,000 in March and a record $21,533,000,000 in February.

However, the industry remained optimistic. Carl N. Schmalz, president of the National Retail Merchants Association and president of R.H. Stearns Co., Boston, predicted retail sales this year will reach a record $260 billion. This would be a gain of more than 5 percent over the 1963 total of $246.3 billion.

Pageant Is Only Local Listing in State Calendar The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce today called attention to the fact that the Miss New York State Pageant is the only event listed for Kingston in the state events calendar prepared and widely distributed by the State Department of Commerce.

The purpose of this calendar is to attract more tourists and visitors to New York State and provide them with a listing of events of all kinds for them to enjoy.

The listing now available covers the period of May, June and July. The Chamber suggests that any organization sponsoring events in August, to and including November should notify the New York State Department of Commerce, 112 State St., Albany, giving the name, date, time and location of the event for free listing in the next edition of the calendar. All events of public interest which visitors and tourists may enjoy should be listed.

Steadily increasing output of automobiles, furniture and other consumer goods characterized the advance. Output of iron and steel increased, and there was increased demand for all types of business equipment.

The April output of factories, mines and utilities was 29.2 percent higher than the average for the 1957-9 period. On the board's index, production increased from 128.2 in March to 129.2 in April, the biggest gain since mid-1963.

Denies 2 Freed Pilots Spying

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—North Korean Communists today released two American helicopter pilots forced down by gunfire last May, then claimed the U.N. Command had acknowledged the pilots committed a border violation on an espionage mission.

Teamsters File Suit At Hoffa

Demand Leader And Aides Repay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six members of the Teamsters Union have filed suit demanding that the union president, James R. Hoffa, and his top command repay the union money that Hoffa and other officials have used to defend themselves in criminal trials.

The six rank-and-file Teamsters, in the U.S. District Court suit Friday, also asked that the court grant an injunction forbidding further payments of such legal expenses.

Hundred of Thousands
Estimates of the money already spent are in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

It was another in a series of sharp blows to Hoffa's position as boss of the nation's biggest union.

Even as the suit was entered here, Hoffa was sitting in a Chicago courtroom on trial on charges of conspiring to defraud the union in a $20-million loan scheme.

He also is appealing an eight-year jury-tampering conviction in Chattanooga, Tenn. — all of which costs money and keeps him from supervising the day-to-day affairs of the Teamsters, which he has run with an iron hand.

See Rule in Jeopardy
Some union sources have questioned whether Hoffa can remain in power, in the face of the court actions, without the backing of the union treasury.

Others point out that Hoffa has weathered some hard storms in the past.

The six Philadelphia Teamsters who filed the suit are part of the same group who kicked off a fuss in the Teamster high command several weeks ago over the question of Hoffa's legal fees.

Teamsters general counsel, Edward Bennett Williams, agreed with the Philadelphia group that such expenditures are illegal. Some executive board members demanded a full board meeting to consider the question further.

No Meeting Scheduled
No such meeting has yet been scheduled on the issue but Hoffa said he would stop using union money to pay his huge legal costs until the Teamsters can get another legal opinion on the matter.

The suit follows a recently announced Labor Department investigation into the union's payment of Hoffa's legal bills.

The only power the Labor Department has is to sue Hoffa.

IBM CLUB AIDS CANCER CRUSADE—Lawrence A. Quilty, (seated-right) chairman for the 1964 Ulster County Cancer Crusade, accepts a check representing the second payment of a pledge of $9,000 from Charles C. Brodhead, director of the Kingston IBM Club. Seated at left is Mrs. Paul Wendrow, executive secretary of the Ulster County Unit. Looking on with smiles of sincere appreciation for the generous contribution are (l-r) Mrs. Arthur Freeman, volunteer director of the Ulster County Unit, (ACS), Carroll T. Prince, chairman for the fund-raising drive, and Augustus S. Brinnier, county vice-chairman. Quilty expressed deepest gratitude on behalf of his committee for the wonderful response to this vital effort to control cancer. "Somewhere in this country many lives will be saved from this dread disease, and all those who contributed time, money, efforts, will have helped toward that end," he said. Residents of the county, who have not been visited by a volunteer worker, may mail contributions to the Ulster County Unit, American Cancer Society, 400 Broadway, Kingston.

age. But he said later, that the admission "is, of course, meaningless."

Capt. Ben. W. Stutts, 31, Florence, Ala., and Carleton W. Vultz, 27, Frankfort, Mich., the pilots, were flown to Seoul, where doctors said they were in good condition.

They were to rest overnight in the U. S. Army hospital before questioning by intelligence officers.

The pilots, who quickly changed from drab cotton Communist uniforms into U.S. Army khaki, were not permitted to talk to newsmen.

In Seoul, the U.N. spokesman, U.S. Army Col. George Creel, explained the advance receipt and its admission of espionage in a statement.

"UNC representatives were prepared to sign and did sign a receipt which, pursuant to KPA — Communist North Korean army — demands as a condition for the release of the pilots included a statement that the helicopter pilots committed espionage," the statement said.

"Such an admission is, of course, meaningless."

On Assigned Mission
"The two pilots were in uniform and engaged in an assigned military mission, specifically that of checking aircraft warning markers south of the DMZ — demilitarized zone — and, therefore, clearly were not engaged in espionage."

"The record is clear, the facts have not changed, and anybody can read the true situation from the facts of the case."

Col. Han Joo-kyung, the Communist Korean secretary, said the two fliers had signed a statement saying they were on a criminal mission when their helicopter was forced down by Communist ground fire on May 17, 1963.

Han distributed to newsmen what was described as a photographic copy of a receipt for the pilots from the U.N. command, admitting the two were guilty of espionage and illegal intrusion and promising such acts would not be repeated.

Johnson Praises Help
For months, the U.N. Command had denied the pilots were on a spying mission. It said the men were inspecting ground markers in the two-mile-wide demilitarized zone and inadvertently had wandered across the Communist side.

In Washington, President Johnson said, "We have made great efforts to obtain their release and have had the help— for which we are grateful— of humanitarian organizations and a number of other countries."

Esopus Studies Museum, Census

The possibility of establishing an area natural history museum in the Town of Esopus and the taking of an interim federal census were the principal items of interest to come before the monthly meeting of the Esopus Town Board this week at the Town Hall, Port Ewen.

A letter from Mrs. Robert Tienken, Union Center Road, called attention to the efforts of an area group of naturalists and interested citizens in forming a local natural history museum to serve the Ulster-Dutchess county area. The efforts of this group was reported in last Tuesday's Freeman. Similar local natural

With McNamara, Rusk Johnson Looks Into Viet Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson confers today with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on plans for increasing military and economic aid to South Viet Nam.

Johnson told congressional leaders at a White House meeting Friday that he would ask for more funds to support a heavier U.S. commitment to the Saigon government, stung by an upsurge in terror raids by pro-Communist guerrillas.

McNamara, who returned Thursday from another inspection trip to South Viet Nam, and Rusk briefed 17 Republican and Democratic leaders and the National Security Council.

Rusk had just returned from a North Atlantic Treaty Organization council meeting in The Hague where he asked the Allies to give more assistance to the anti-Communist effort in Viet Nam.

Not Very Optimistic
In general the congressional leaders declined to comment on what they had heard at the briefing but Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told newsmen: "There has been no significant change. It is purely a matter of degree. It isn't a very optimistic picture."

After the meeting White House press secretary George Reedy summed it up this way: "I think it is rather obvious there will be a need for additional funds and some appropriate recommendations."

He declined to say whether Johnson would present the proposals in a special message, a speech or a budget request.

Stresses More Help
After returning from Saigon, McNamara said that more U.S. military and economic aid must be sent to Viet Nam. This, he said, might require more U.S. troops to train Vietnamese forces.

No sooner was McNamara out of Viet Nam than the Communist Viet Cong won one of their bloodiest victories in a month in the jungle war. They trapped a convoy of government forces, killing 54 and wounding 50, including an American ranger captain. Ten others are missing.

Historical Review Traces Long Tradition of Service

Paltz College Will Conclude Five-Day Ceremonies Sunday

Thousands of persons have attended activities at the State University College at New Paltz, which were held in recognition of the recent expansion and future growth of the college. The elaborate program opened on Wednesday and will continue through Sunday.

A highlight of the five-day event was the announcement at a master plan luncheon Wednesday, of details of a $30 million expansion program planned by the University of New York for its college at New Paltz.

The announcement was made by Dr. William J. Haggerty, president of the college.

Visitors received a brief history of the State University College of New Paltz, which was released by the office of Leland E. Heinze, director of information at the college. The historical review traces the long tradition of service in education of people of New York and dates back to the New Paltz Classical School, which was established in New Paltz by private subscription in 1828.

The New Paltz Classical High School was but the beginning of expanding educational opportunities in the community. In 1833, a new building was constructed, again at private subscription, and the New Paltz Academy came into being, based upon the determination of New Paltz citizens to provide coming generations with more liberal educational opportunities.

The review of the college history continues:

Alliance Looms After Rocky's Stunning Win

CIA Behind Raids, Roa Informs U. N.

Infiltration Move
The Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba, a Cuban exile group in Washington, confirmed the landings Friday and said they were carried out as the attack on a sugar mill in Port Pilon diverted the attention of Cuban armed forces.

The committee said the landing was an infiltration move, part of a long-range plan to bolster internal guerrilla forces.

A Spanish language broadcaster in Miami said there were landings on both the north and south coasts of Cuba.

Roa sent a note to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant warning that peace might be endangered by Wednesday's sugar mill raid and by an arms cache found earlier off the Cuban coast.

The note said the sugar mill attack was by a pirate ship "such as the CIA operates from bases in Florida, Puerto Rico and Central America."

"Using these illegal flights of U2 planes over the national territory of Cuba, the CIA obtains information about our military installations for the organization and carrying out of these vandalistic attacks," the note continued.

Vows Return by May
The State Department, in Washington, continued to deny U.S. involvement.

In Puerto Rico, Manuel Ray, leader of an exile action group, resigned his government job. Ray, a former member of Castro's cabinet, has promised to be back on Cuban soil by May 20.

Rocky Will Get Support Sunday From L. A. Times

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Times will announce in a Sunday morning editorial that it is endorsing the delegation pledged to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in California's June 2 primary.

Deep Gratitude, First Reaction Of Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP)—The upset he scored in the Oregon primary was Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's first significant victory in five months of hard campaigning for the Republican nomination for president. He said his immediate reaction was "deep gratitude."

Strategists Move Quickly
His top campaign strategists moved quickly today to capitalize on the governor's success.

They began discussing plans to use the results in Oregon as evidence that:

—Republicans want a moderate candidate and Rockefeller is "the leading moderate of the party."

—Rockefeller, who came from behind in the closing days of the Oregon primary with an all-out effort, is the only candidate who can wage the type of fighting campaign needed to get a GOP victory in November.

—The GOP leaders who had written off Rockefeller as a serious prospect for the nomination will have to take a new look at him.

Meets Press Today
The governor called a news conference for 11 a.m. (EDT).

Only Mrs. Rockefeller was present with the governor as he watched television coverage of the primary.

He returned home Friday after six days on the road.

Rockefeller campaigned in Oregon through Thursday afternoon, then flew to Washington for an intelligence briefing on national security and foreign policy. He also met with President Johnson, who had offered the briefings to all prospective nominees for the presidency.

Tribute to Gallant Man
John A. Wells, Rockefeller's national campaign chairman, told reporters the outcome of the primary was "a tribute to a very gallant gentleman who doesn't know how to quit."

He said he was sure the results would have an impact on the June 2 primary in California, in which Rockefeller and Sen. Barry Goldwater are the only candidates.

Rockefeller will fly to California Monday night to begin his final drive to win that state's 86 votes.

Lodge Forces May Back Him on Coast Against Goldwater

N. Y. Governor Has 11,565 Margin With 593 Oregon Precincts Missing

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller swept to an upset victory in the Oregon primary that turned the tables on Henry Cabot Lodge and set the stage for a possible California alliance between the two Republican presidential hopefuls.

Lodge Men Stunned
Lodge men, stunned by the setback in an Oregon race they had expected to win, headed for Los Angeles to talk over their next move.

Rockefeller, the only personal campaigner in a six-candidate field, left Lodge well behind in second place in Oregon's Friday balloting.

There were reports the Lodge forces were ready to throw their weight behind Rockefeller in California's primary June 2.

Paul Grindle, a leader of the campaign for the ambassador, denied this.

Grindle said, however, that the high command of the Lodge movement would explore the situation in general — and California, in particular — at the Los Angeles meeting.

Head-on Clash
Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, who ran third in Oregon, are alone on the ballot there. No write-in votes will be counted in their head-on clash for 86 GOP national convention delegates.

Whatever the Lodge organization does in California, Rockefeller hoped the Oregon victory would thrust him toward another triumph there.

Rockefeller, cast as the underdog in Oregon, has the same role in California.

With 2,658 of Oregon's 3,251 precincts counted, the Republican race stacked up this way: Rockefeller 64,998, Lodge 53,433, Goldwater 35,142, Nixon 33,502, Smith 5,667, Scranton 3,266.

The Oregon triumph awarded Rockefeller 18 convention votes. It was a write-in upset in the New Hampshire presidential primary that first propelled Lodge—absent and undeclared—into the battle for the Republican nomination.

Others Far Behind
Rockefeller's Oregon upset victory appeared to have knocked him out of it.

Goldwater and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon ran far behind Rockefeller and Lodge in Oregon.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, who neither campaigned nor had Oregon allies at work, split a relative handful of primary votes.

With 2,658 of Oregon's 3,251 precincts counted, the Republican race stacked up this way: Rockefeller 64,998, Lodge 53,433, Goldwater 35,142, Nixon 33,502, Smith 5,667, Scranton 3,266.

That gave Rockefeller 33 percent of the vote and Lodge 27 per cent. These percentages stood from the very first sprinkling of votes Friday night.

"This is a further effort to Rockefeller, who spent a month stumping Oregon, heard the returns at his home in Tarrytown, N.Y., and said: "I have but one reaction tonight... and that is my feeling of deep gratitude to the people of that state for the victory they have given me."

In Saigon, Lodge smiled, and made no direct comment. He

Boycott Is Possible of CR Caucus

Senate Resumes Saturday Parleys

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate resumes Saturday sessions on the embattled civil rights bill today, with Southern senators talking of boycotting a Democratic caucus Tuesday where amendments proposed by the bipartisan leadership will be considered.

Russell Undecided
Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chief strategist of the Dixie forces, said he hasn't decided whether to show up or not. But he told reporters, "I don't see any useful purpose in doing so."

He added some Southerners may go but said he could "argue on the floor just as well."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., one of Russell's lieutenants, said in a separate interview that he will boycott the meeting and that others are expected to follow suit.

With the debate in its 57th day prospects for passage hinge on whether sufficient support for the leadership package of some 70 amendments can be mustered to cut off the Southern talkathon.

Adoption of cloture requires two-thirds of the senators present and voting.

Two Groups to Meet
Meanwhile, the debate proceeds. The leadership, while calling a Saturday session, let the Senate recess comparatively early Friday night 7:18.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has invited all Democratic senators to a conference Tuesday morning to discuss the package of amendments worked out with Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A conference of Republican senators also is set that day to go over the proposed changes, designed to drum up enough support for the cloture petition.

Stennis said the Democratic meeting isn't likely to be "a caucus at all but a strategy session by proponents, and I could not be any help."

"Somewhere in this country many lives will be saved from this dread disease, and all those who contributed time, money, efforts, will have helped toward that end," he said. Residents of the county, who have not been visited by a volunteer worker, may mail contributions to the Ulster County Unit, American Cancer Society, 400 Broadway, Kingston.

AND ALL THE WHILE

Now and then, as one trots in his little squirrel cage of daily activities, there comes a moment of awareness of some of the less routine things that are going on in the world. Sometimes this flash of realization seems to pop out of nowhere; sometimes it is touched off by a news item.

The latter experience was ours the other day when we read a bit of news reported by the National Geographic Society. It seems that a six-man Norwegian ski unit journeying over the top of the world from Canada to Europe is almost half way to the North Pole from its starting point on Ellesmere Island.

We had known that the team was under way, but we had forgotten. Here was a reminder that all the while we had been going through the usual mundane round, those men had been slogging farther and farther north 'way above the Arctic Circle. As this is written they are moving across the white barrens like ants across a tennis court. Weeks hence they will still be on their way.

There are other such things. All at once, one recalls that a man alone on a raft is bobbing along halfway across the Pacific. Or one remembers that the once-involate upper atmosphere of the earth is threaded constantly, now, by a host of artificial satellites that go 'round and 'round whether we remember or not.

All of which leads to no special conclusion. Except perhaps that life, though it may often seem commonplace and even dull, is full of the most fascinating diversity if we but open our senses to it.

FILIP FOR CYCLISTS

Cyclists have reason to sit a little taller in the saddle these days. One of their big problems, where to find adequate pathways for cycling, has been taken up in Washington. Whether that fount of wisdom will actually produce more facilities for two-wheelers remains to be seen, but it is encouraging that the matter is now being mulled over at such a high level.

This is not a wholly new development. At the time of President Eisenhower's heart attack, it will be recalled, Dr. Paul Dudley White focused some Washington light on the merits of cycling as an aid to fitness. This is the orientation of present discussions, too; the President's Council on Physical Fitness is involved.

Good enough. But let us hope that the amenities of cycling, as well as its therapeutic value, will also be given some attention. If there are to be more paths, let them wind through pleasant spots. Half the fun of cycling is to observe the passing scene at something under 40 miles an hour. If the passing scene is scenic, so much the better.

DRINKING, DRIVING, DEATH

The drinking-driving problem, one of the most serious facing the nation today, dominates any discussion of death on our highways.

Alcohol is involved in at least 50 per cent of all fatal accidents, according to the New York State Traffic Safety Council. The problem is vexing nationally, but it is worse in New York. Council studies of 28 New York cities show our arrest and conviction rate for drunken driving is one of the poorest on record.

In New York City, the situation got so bad Commissioner M. J. Murphy launched a vigorous campaign against drunken drivers. The 1963 arrests jumped 52 per cent compared to 1962 for a record total of 4,508. Arrests in January of this year jumped 87 per cent. If more communities in the State followed this example, drunken driving problems would be drastically reduced.

This is not only a police problem, but a community, social, public and personal one which involves courts and juries as well as neighbors.

The drunken driver is a menace to all

THE BLACK CATS LIE IN WAIT

Balint Czupry is a former member of the Hungarian parliament who is an analyst for the Free Europe Committee in Munich. He comes from peasant stock. I have just obtained a translation of a paper he has done called "The Outlook for Hungarian Agriculture, 1964." On the basis of statistics about the destruction of cows and pigs in Hungary in 1963, and further information from the Hungarian countryside about a speed-up in sowing last autumn that took place without proper fertilization or preparation of the soil, Balint Czupry predicts another bad year for Hungarians if they can't latch on to a second big infusion of grain from Canada or the United States.

The Balint Czupry analysis might be dismissed as the wishful statement of a refugee who thinks with his hopes. But it so happens that it checks with news from a variety of sources behind the Iron Curtain. The Czupry paper tells about 40,000 trained tractor drivers who have vanished from Hungarian farms into the cities. This sort of thing is apparently happening elsewhere in the Red World. A young Soviet poet, V. Tsinin, has recently published a verse that goes this way:

"Oh, this craving for city life,
Not fixed pay,
Not like in the country!
And who will be settled on the land?
And with what torments will you pay,
The land abandoned by you!"

Quoting this poem, Grigory V. Yuriev, who is on the staff of the Institute for the Study of the USSR in Munich, adds to his own analysis of Iron Curtain agriculture an excerpt from a recent speech by S. Pavlov, the Secretary of the Central Committee of the Komsomol, or Young Communist League. Pavlov demanded summary action to compel agronomists, engineers, veterinarians and animal husbandry experts to return to the farms from Soviet industrial centers. Soviet agriculture is lagging because the factories pay more than the collective farms. Said Alla Gromova, the secretary of the Komsomol committee of an industrial enterprise that has been employing many young refugees from the countryside. "They all talk like this (about preferring city work). There is nothing to be done about it. Fish seek deeper water."

This sort of testimony about the drift from the farms to the cities in Iron Curtain lands can be multiplied many times over. And it is only one type of manifestation that indicates Khrushchev is going to be pushed into all sorts of attempted legerdemain in his efforts to keep the lid on a boiling cauldron this coming summer. In Poland, for example, Khrushchev is faced with the discontent of the intellectuals, thirty-four of whom recently sent a letter to Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz demanding greater cultural freedom. The intellectuals were silenced, and several of them were banned from the Polish radio and from magazines, but the news of their petition leaked out to the West anyway. In Czechoslovakia, where Stalinism has lingered longer than in other Iron Curtain countries, the students kicked over the traces on May Day. The Red police, using precisely the tactics that so scandalized American liberals when they were used in Birmingham, Ala., formed a wedge behind ferocious dogs held on leash and swung at the students with truncheons.

Meanwhile there is a suppressed story about the growth of secret terrorist organizations in the Red world that are modeled on the Death or Freedom movement that led to the Decembrist uprising more than a hundred years ago against the Russian Czar. The new Death or Freedom cells stress their continuity with a revolt that didn't succeed. Nevertheless, the movement is a straw in the wind of present-day discontent. Most menacing of all to Khrushchev's equanimity is a super-terrorist grouping called the Chornaia Koshka, or Black Cat Society. The Black Cats strike in the dark, leaving this memento behind them:

"The night is black.
The cat is black.
Soon you go to hell,
Nikita Khrushchev."

You don't hear of the Black Cats. They really manage the news in the Soviet world.

Listen to Her Backtalk

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My girl, 11, has always been rebellious with me. When she was smaller she had tantrums if she didn't want to do what I said. Now she gives me arguments. Even when her father backs me up and makes her do what I say, she has to shoot her mouth off at me anyway. My husband says why do I let her get under my skin like I do but he isn't around her all the time as I am.

ANSWER: Think back to the moment when she starts arguing. Does something happen to you which you haven't noticed? Do you hear the echo of a voice that used to say things like this to you when you were a little girl: "That will be all out of you. . . . Do what you're told and no more backtalk!"

Hurry up now and no more arguments. . . . I'm almost sure you do. I think that whenever your child starts protesting what you've asked, you can't listen to what she is saying because you are so busy listening to the echoing voice of the grownups of your childhood who formed your idea of The Right Thing to Do With Children's Arguments. So you suffer when you can't shut your daughter up as you were shut up by your childhood grownup. You feel that you are a bad, incompetent mother because you can't do The Right Thing to Do With Children's Arguments—and satisfy the moral view of that echoing voice.

Its owner was not God. She could have been mistaken. Her view of the right treatment for children's arguments could have been tyrannical and stupid.

I wish you would question it with me. I wish that you would remember that even people charged with criminal offenses are granted their right to argue their point of view. They are even encouraged to hire lawyers to argue it. No matter how terrible is our suspicion, the law insists that we listen to all their backtalk before we decide whether they are guilty and bad.

Yet you cannot give this listening attention to your daughter's viewpoint. Please, open your mind to a view of protesting children other than the one implanted in you long ago. When the fussing starts over some obedience try saying: "All right, what is the best reason you have for not wanting to hang up your coat? If I think it makes sense, too, I'll hang it up for you. If I don't, you know what will have to be done. Now, what is your reason?"

of us. Let's all help get him from behind the wheel of the potentially death-dealing instrument on the highways.

GGoldwater plans to quit making off-the-cuff comments. This gives him a chance to get both feet on the ground and not have one in his mouth.

Drastic style changes are forecast in the 1965 cars. About the only parts that won't be changed are the wheels. They'll still be round.

A commission will probe Russia's lagging agricultural economy. The more Khrushchev tries to bury us, the deeper the peasants go in the hole.

SAN FRANCISCO — (NEA)

—Here in California, most particularly in the fast-growing southern counties, the professional politician is learning what marksmen long have known—it's hard to hit a moving target.

In this instance the shifting target is the mobile voter. One survey has shown that in the San Diego area, where the changing fortunes of aircraft and space industries seriously affect jobholding, some 80 per cent of the voting population has changed residence in a given five-year period.

For some California areas, a year-old registration list may be badly dated. As many as one-fourth of the voters may not be living at the listed addresses.

The massive metropolitan Los Angeles population cluster is, of course, a continuous mixing bowl of in-migrants, out-migrants and address-changers.

THOUGH THE CALIFORNIA SITUATION may be unmatched in the United States, population (voter) mobility is an increasing problem for politicians to cope with in all the sizable urban clusters today.

First off, the endless round of "moving days" temporarily robs millions of voters of their franchise, since they often cannot meet length-of-residence requirements for voting in zones new to them.

Second, it makes the matter of registering voters an increasing headache. The Democrats seem generally to be better at it than the Republicans, but even they tend to come down most heavily with hastily mounted election-year crash programs.

The Wednesday morning business session will be concluded with the annual presentation on New Legislation Affecting New York State School Districts presented by Dr. John P. Jehu, director of the State Education Department's Division of Law.

Specialists from the State Education Department, Department of Audit and Control, Division of Standards and Purchases, and the State Teacher's and State Employees Retirement Systems have been invited to give advice on individual district administrative problems.

Norman Hutton, comptroller of plant, Township of York, Toronto, Canada, Walter F. Bruning of the American Society of Landscape Architects in Syracuse, Miss Dorothy Downs, assistant director of engineering of the Fireman's Mutual Insurance Company of Providence, R. I. and William R. Johnson, coordinator for local government and education of IBM will assist in bringing the private business viewpoint and experience to special panel presentations. Over 60 exhibitors will feature supply, service and equipment items which have special application to public school district operations.

About 750 members, exhibitors and guests are expected to attend. Other program participants from the New Palitz area will be Frank A. Hamilton, business manager, New Palitz Central School who will report on a handbook under preparation titled Legal Aspects of Pupil Transportation. Hamilton is chairman of the committee preparing the publication.

Women Voters Schedule Dinner At Lake Mohonk

The New Palitz League of Women Voters have announced that the annual dinner will be held Tuesday at Lake Mohonk. This last general meeting of the year will be an open one, which the general public may attend.

The guest speaker for the evening will be John Sullivan, regional director of the bureau of outdoor recreation. Mr. Sullivan recently addressed a group of league representatives from the eastern seaboard on the subjects of water conservation and the Tocks Lake Recreation Area.

The entire evening's program will start at 6:30 p. m. when those attending are to meet at Mountain Rest then proceed to Lake Mohonk for a 7 p. m. dinner. A brief business meeting will follow, in which members will vote on the annual budget and the new officers for the coming year. Mrs. Gerow Smiley, outgoing president of the New Palitz League, will conduct the meeting and introduce Mr. Sullivan.

Reservations are to be made by today with Mrs. Robert Duey.

Reformed Church Notes
The Holy Spirit will be the sermon topic at the 11 a. m. worship service at the New Palitz Reformed Church Sunday. Visitors and newcomers may attend. Care nurseries will be available in the Education Building.

The Junior-High Youth Fellowship of the Reformed Church have invited members of the sixth grade to their meeting Sunday 7 p. m. in the church social room to get acquainted with the group. There will be games and refreshments will be served.

The Spiritual Life Group of the Reformed Church will meet in the Youth Lounge Tuesday 7:30 p. m. Miss Colla Coulter is chairman and the Rev. Roger Leonard will lead the discussion on the Bible.

The annual men's communion breakfast will be held at the Reformed Church, New Palitz, Sunday, May 24 at 8 a. m. The speaker will be Lieutenant Colonel Robert H. Hammond, associate professor of earth, space and graphic sciences at West Point.

The breakfast will be prepared by Boy Scout Troop 172, which is sponsored by the church, under the leadership of Charles Hamilton and Douglas Bartow. Henry Hopper, senior elder, is in charge of the sale of tickets which are limited by the seating capacity of the Social Room.

The Guild for Christian Service of the New Palitz Reformed Church is sponsoring a Luncheon Is Served party to be held at 12:30 p. m. on Friday, May 22 in the church social room.

A three-course luncheon will be served, followed by a program helpful to homemakers. A baby-sitting service will be provided in the Educational Building beginning at 12:15 p. m. Mothers will give their children lunch before bringing them.

Tickets are being given to all members of the church to use them. It is requested that all tickets be either used or returned so that assurance of the required attendance can be made. Tickets remaining, after noon today, will be available for guests at the Church Office in the Education Building after church service Sunday, May 17, as well as on Monday, May 18 and Tuesday, May 19, from 9 a. m. until noon. There will be no Guild business conducted with the exception of announcements and the usual freewill offering.

Expect 500,000 Youngsters at E. German Rally

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communists launched a mammoth youth rally in East Berlin today, offering three days of entertainment including a concert by the secret police.

Communist officials said they expected about 500,000 youngsters from throughout East Germany to show up. It is the first such rally since 1954, when hundreds used the opportunity to escape to the West.

The Reds can feel fairly safe now. They built the Berlin Wall nearly three years ago and the chances of reaching the West are remote.

About 10,000 guards, armed with submachine guns and aided by police dogs, normally guard the border around West Berlin.

Western intelligence sources said they noted a slight increase in guards since Friday.

Hundreds of special trains and buses carried youngsters to the city from scattered towns and villages.

The meeting is sponsored by the Free German Youth Organization under the patronage of Walter Ulbricht, the Communist party boss.

Ulbricht invited West German youngsters to come to East Berlin for the rally but there was no evidence that any appreciable number did so.

Dad, Son Hurt In Ruby Mishap

A father and his son visiting here were injured in a motor scooter accident about 7 p. m. Friday on the Dachenhausen Road in Ruby.

Angelo Altomari Jr., 33, of Salisbury, N. C., formerly of Dalewood Court, Kingston, was taken to Benedictine Hospital where he was treated for a head cut and a possible broken left shoulder. His son, Warren, 10, was treated for a left leg cut.

Suerved to Avoid Dog

State Police said the older Altomari was driving the scooter on the road when he swerved to avoid striking a dog. The scooter left the road, throwing the driver and passenger to the ground. Trooper John Kohland, Lake Katrine substation, investigated.

In other traffic cases:

James Munley, 63, of Garfield Avenue, Kearney, N. J., was injured in a one-car accident about 3 a. m. today on McBride Street in Napanoch, Town of Wawarsing.

He was taken by Ellenville First Aid and Rescue Squad to Ellenville Hospital where he was treated for facial cuts and a hip injury. Trooper Hubert Dempsey, Ellenville substation, said Munley was driving north on McBride Street when an unknown car passed him and forced his vehicle off the road where it struck a tree.

Edward Beckett, 29, of Woodridge, Sullivan County, was arrested on two charges Friday afternoon by State Police at Ellenville.

He was committed to Ulster County Jail in lieu of $100 bail for his appearance later today before Peace Justice Herbert Poppel on charges of driving while intoxicated and driving an unregistered motor vehicle.

Motorist Gets Summons

A Rhinebeck motorist was issued a summons after a two-car collision Friday afternoon on the Mount Putnam Road north of the Old Post Road in Dutchess County community.

Trooper Hugh McCallen cited Walter Harter, 45, for driving on the left on a curve. He said Harter was driving south on the Mt. Putnam Road and rounding a curve when his car entered the other side of the road and collided with a vehicle driven north on the same road by Henry Martin, 47, also of Rhinebeck. No injuries were reported.

Police said the summons were returnable before Peace Justice Clarence Traver, Rhinebeck.

partment has is to investigate and make public the amount spent for Hoffa's legal expenses.

The law leaves it up to individual union members, such as the Philadelphia group, to sue for reimbursement of any money allegedly spent improperly.

The Philadelphia group also asked that bonding companies who have bonded top union officials be made part of the suit. They said Teamsters leaders have refused to tell them the names of the bonding companies.

Suit Names 19

The suit named Hoffa, 14 other members of the union's executive board and four trustees.

The union has refused to say how much Hoffa's long legal troubles have cost.

The six Teamsters contended that union officials are responsible under federal law to use union money solely for the benefit of the union and its members.

The six men who filed the suit are John C. Jones Sr., Jesse Copio, Benjamin Burnham, Louis J. Buttone, L. V. Schafer and John Reagan.

Alexander T. Chepeleff, controller — Data Processing Division of IBM Corporation, Kingston, was elected vice president and James G. Reaser, assistant treasurer of the Albany Felt Company was elected secretary-treasurer.

The Financial Executives Institute is a management organization originally established as Controllers Institute of America in 1931. FEI now has an active membership of more than 5,600 financial and control executives of leading business concerns who have a common bond in their interest in techniques of financial management and in maintaining business enterprise on a healthy basis in the face of changing business conditions.

Membership is open to executives performing the duties of a financial executive as defined by the institute and serving companies of sufficient size to qualify.

Chapters of the institute are active in 54 cities in the United States, Puerto Rico and Canada.

Paltz College

time the site was removed from the bank of the Walkkill to its present location on the hill where classes convened in 1908. Further expansion of building facilities was started on Oct. 25, 1930, when ground was broken for the Lawrence H. van den Berg School of Practice building, which houses the Campus school.

This school, which accommodates about 500 pupils in nursery, kindergarten, elementary and junior high school, served as one of the schools in a large central school district, as a demonstration and laboratory school, and as a student teaching center for the college.

In 1938, a four year course of recognized collegiate rank was established. In January, 1942, the school was authorized by the Board of Regents to grant the Bachelor's degree. Later that same year, a statute of the State Legislature changed the name to the State Teachers College at New Paltz.

Another milestone in the continuous attempts of the college to serve the needs of New York State schools and teachers, came in November, 1945, with the establishment of a program for the preparation of nursery school and kindergarten teachers. It was the first program of its kind to be offered by any of the New York State Teachers Colleges.

Authorization was given by the Board of Regents in September, 1947, for the State Teachers College to offer graduate courses leading to the Master's degree. During the legislative session of 1948, an act was passed creating the State University of New York. Thirty-one existing institutions of higher learning were incorporated into the State University as a first step toward providing a comprehensive and coordinated State-supported system of higher education for the youth of New York.

The State University College at New Paltz is one of these units. In July of 1959, the name of the college was changed from Teachers College to College of Education. In September, 1961, the college became a multi-purpose institution and received its present name.

In the summer of 1960 the college was authorized by the State University trustees and the Board of Regents to offer a liberal arts program leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree. During 1961-62 the college initiated programs for the preparation of secondary teachers in all of the academic fields.

The purpose of the college is to educate young men and women in the Liberal Arts and, in addition, to prepare those in the teacher education programs for meeting certification requirements for teaching positions in the schools of New York. The curriculum as a whole is designed to help the student understand himself and the world in which he lives; to help him realize his potentialities as an individual and to take his place as a contributing member of society.

Passionate Hydrants

SOUTH MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Firemen are painting the city's fire hydrants green, orange and red. It isn't that the city decided the fireplugs were too drab. But inspectors are checking the output capacity of the plugs. Green means more than 1,000 gallons per minute; orange, 500 to 1,000; and red, under 500.

Papers Are Filed Before Deadline In Ackert Action

Saugerties Village officials were still awaiting today the decision of Supreme Court Justice T. Paul Kane, Albany, on a show cause order to nullify the dismissal of Ernest R. Ackert as village registrar of vital statistics.

Robert L. Carnright, village attorney, said he filed memorandums of law in the case last Friday, prior to the deadline Friday. It is understood that Louis P. Francello, attorney for Ackert also filed a reply. Francello was reported out of town.

The show cause order seeks to reverse dismissal of Ackert as village registrar of vital statistics and the appointment of Shirley Maines as deputy clerk and William McCormack as deputy registrar.

The order, signed by Supreme Court Justice William Decker, was argued earlier this month by Carnright and Francello.

Ackert was not reappointed to the post of village clerk-treasurer at the April organizational meeting of the village board, and no reason was given for the board's action. At the board's meeting on April 27, Ackert was dismissed from his post as registrar by a unanimous vote.

The board then issued a statement quoting a 1963 State Board of Audit and Control report indicating a bookkeeping shortage of $1,810.66 over a three-year period. Ackert reportedly asked the state audit bureau on two occasions for a reevaluation of the village audit and each time submitted further information to justify bookkeeping differences between the state audit and his clerk-treasurer's report.

Alliance Looms

said as he has throughout the campaign, "I'm precluded by government regulations from engaging in any kind of political activity."

With the Oregon upset, Rockefeller appeared to have shaken for the first time the shadow issue of his divorce and his remarriage a year ago to the divorced mother of four children. The second Mrs. Rockefeller expects a baby in about two weeks.

Truce Focus: Hatfield

"I think the Oregon victory put the Rockefeller divorce matter more in its true focus," said Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, "and Oregonians showed they voted for the man and what he stands for rather than any labels he may have or his personal affairs."

Then Hatfield — who stayed neutral in the Oregon campaign — dispatched this telegram to the New York governor: "Your victory here is a great personal one and is the result of your vigorous presentation of yourself and the issues to the people of Oregon."

Goldwater, who pulled out of the Oregon campaign five weeks ago, was writing off the Oregon primary. He said he would be happy to run better than fourth.

Barry Not Surprised

Goldwater declared an Oregon victory would be impossible because he didn't spend enough time or money to win. His sons, Barry Jr. and Michael, did the Goldwater campaigning here.

"It went about the way I expected it to," Goldwater said of the Oregon race. "I have 325 delegates now, and Mr. Rockefeller has Oregon's . . . I'm glad he has some. It makes a better race."

Politicians and politicians had expected Lodge to win. When he didn't, Paul Grindle, chief of the drive to draft the U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, called the Oregon outcome "a great tribute to moderate, middle-of-the-road Republicanism."

"We all have a tremendous admiration for a man who keeps fighting," Grindle said of Rockefeller.

Rules Out Alliance

In the wake of the Oregon loss, Grindle said he and other Lodge campaign leaders would confer in Los Angeles today — but he insisted the ambassador's forces had not decided to throw their support to Rockefeller in California.

"We're simply going to explore the whole situation and the situation in California," he said.

Grindle had said earlier his men were going to "sit here and clear our heads." He added, "We don't know where we're going from here."

Hatfield called Rockefeller's victory "the upset of the year" and predicted it would influence the California race.

"If he goes on to win in the California primary, I think he definitely will be in the front running position for the nomination," said the Oregon governor.

Rockefeller's national campaign chairman, John A. Wells, said the Oregon success was "the necessary step on the road to the nomination" and agreed it would help in California.

Wells added, "We're still too close to the cliff to make any sort of prediction."

98,501 for LBJ

Collide Over Vienna

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Two light airplanes collided over Vienna today and crashed into a busy downtown section. First reports said five persons were killed.

The planes, whose nationality was not immediately known, collided at about 2,000 feet and exploded in the crash, the first reports said.

One plane, believed to have carried four persons, crashed into a block of apartment houses in the 7th city district of Neubau, setting the roof of one apartment house on fire.

Four bodies were recovered from the debris while firemen battled the blaze.

Rape Try Foiled, Intruder Throws Infant to Death

NEW YORK (AP)—A would-be rapist, his attack on a 9-year-old Brooklyn girl thwarted, snatched her infant brother from his crib Friday night and hurled him to his death from the roof of a four-story building, police reported.

They said that while the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julio Sanchez, were visiting next door, a young Negro entered the apartment through an unlocked door and tried to assault Sandra Sanchez.

The girl screamed and, she said, the intruder picked up her brother, Anthony, 11 months, and ran to the roof. The child's body was found in a rear courtyard. The man escaped.

Stennis said civil rights proponents are "planning an invasion of the South" and he will offer an amendment to make it a federal crime for demonstrators to cross state lines to violate state laws.

He's on the ballot again in Maryland's primary next Tuesday.

Oregon also nominated candidates for Congress. Only one incumbent, Democratic Rep. Rob B. Duncan, had primary opposition, and he won renomination, over Charles O. Porter, a former congressman trying for a comeback.

Pokepsie Town Police Book Six On Game Charges

Six workers in concessions at the Continental Shows, playing on Salt Point Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, were arrested Friday night by town police on charges of being common gamblers, involving games of chance.

Police Lieut. Paul Osterman told The Freeman, the games were seized by a detail of detectives and uniformed officers.

The defendants pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Donald Holden and each was fined $100 or 30 days in the Dutchess county jail. The fines were paid.

Lieut. Osterman identified the men as: Robert L. Presta, 34, of Miami, Fla.; Louis Nuskind, 55, of Richmond Hills; Joseph Desnoga, 55, also of Miami; Robert Dugan, 54, of Tampa, Fla.; William J. Spencer, 44, of Miami; and Alfred Rinaldi, 51, of Milford, Conn.

During the 10 days the Continental Shows played here, authorities made several arrests and closed shows featuring women performers.

Tribesmen Tell Of Record Toll In Laos Attack

MUONG CHA, Laos (AP) — Refugee Meo tribesmen who fled from Communist attacks in the remote northeast corner of Laos have told of severe casualties—possibly 1,000 dead among civilians alone.

If the reports prove anywhere near accurate, the losses could be the highest in Laos' civil war.

A U.S. aid official helping care for the Meos reaching the Muong Cha Valley said it would be two or three weeks before a true count could be made.

Stories of the bloody attacks and ambushes came from 2,500 Meos who have reached this area 145 air miles north of Vientiane.

Esopus Studies Museums, Census

history museums are now located at Cornwall and Troy.

The committee proposing the project hopes that such a area national history museum would serve as a nature center for young children, a new and dynamic classroom for school students, a research facility for college students and a repository for collections of scientific significance for the reference of professionals and amateurs alike.

The Esopus Town Board felt that possibly the former West Park School building and property might be suitable for the new group's needs, particularly at the beginning. The property is in the geographic area desired for the proposed museum's location by the sponsoring group, and is also virtually across the street from the former home of John Burroughs, one of the country's leading naturalists.

Burroughs, prior to his death in 1924, achieved considerable fame as a naturalist and author. Because of his fame as a naturalist, many people of note used to visit him at his home at West Park or at his retreat "Slab sides" to the west of the hamlet. Famous personages who visited Burroughs at West Park included former President Theodore Roosevelt, Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford, Harvey Firestone, and others. The "Slab sides Association" plans to hold its annual meeting at Burroughs' retreat next Saturday.

The Esopus Town Board plans to contact the steering committee of the museum group to determine their possible interest. The West Park school property was given to the Town of Esopus by the Highland Central School District this past winter after the need for the property no longer existed for school purposes.

Eye More State Aid

A discussion was also held by the Board on the advisability of taking an interim special federal census of the township in early 1965. Such a census would be at the mid-point between the regular 10-year federal census and the purpose of it would be to increase the per capita state aid to the township. Townships receive $3.55 per person in state aid each year.

The population of the Town of Esopus as the result of the 1960 census was 6,597. On the basis of the number of residential electric meters in the township at the time of the 1960 census and the number today, Supervisor Roger W. Mabie estimates the present population of the Town of Esopus to be approximately 7,150 and the projected population in 1965 to be in the neighborhood of 7,300.

New Paltz Will

Reformed Church, will officiate. Comments will be given by Mayor Henry DuBois of the Village of New Paltz and by Fred DuBois, former supervisor of the Town of New Paltz and presently county treasurer.

The 15 trustees of the Huguenot Historical Society will be present. They include Mrs. Ruth H. MacDowell, Miss Annette I. Young, Jay LeFevre, Howard E. Grimm, Joseph E. Hasbrouck Jr., Paul D. Hasbrouck, Frank Freer Jr., William Heldger, Walter Hasbrouck, Louis DuB. LeFevre, Andrew Snyder, Martin L. DuBois, Webb Kniffen, Harold Wood and Kenneth E. Hasbrouck.

Miller Satisfactory

M. Clifford Miller, of Elmdorf Heights, Hurley, assistant superintendent of Kingston Consolidated Schools, was reported in satisfactory condition today in Kingston Hospital. He was taken to the hospital a week ago after he suffered an attack in his home. He was placed in an oxygen tent and reported in serious condition after his admission.

Albany Girl Dies From Injuries, 5 Other Are Hurt

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Sally J. Oakley, 19, of Averill Park, east of Albany, died early today in Mercy Hospital of injuries suffered in a two-car collision Friday night at the intersection of Routes 37 and 342, north of this Jefferson County community.

Five other persons were injured in the crash.

Listed in fair condition today in Mercy Hospital were: Kathleen Barto, 20, of Owego, driver of one car; Mary Walters, 19, of Holcomb; and Katherine J. Bulmer, 19, of Wilson. Miss Walters and Miss Bulmer are students at Brockport State College, as was the dead girl.

The driver of the other auto, Roy Eiss, 40, and his wife, Jean, 20, of LaFargeville, were released after treatment.

State Police said the Barto vehicle, carrying the four girls, was eastbound on Route 342, and the Eiss auto was northbound on Route 37 when the crash occurred.

No summons was issued, pending investigation.

Ike Still Keeps Hands Off '64

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has again declined to endorse any individual for the Republican presidential nomination, saying he wants to be in a position "to soothe the ruffled feelings" during and after the convention.

He made the comment Friday night in an interview with Walter Cronkite on a Columbia Broadcasting System television network news show.

Esopus Studies Museums, Census

Supervisor Mabie will contact the Census Bureau to determine the cost of a special census, and to also determine if other townships might want to participate in such a census to possibly lower the overall cost.

To Meet May 22

The Board passed a resolution requested by the State Department of Public Works establishing the official road mileage in the township. The state measured the town roads late last year. The official town road mileage in the Town of Esopus as the result of this measurement is 54.92 miles. The Esopus Board has a meeting scheduled with M. Nicholas Sinacori, District Engineer for the State D.P.W. for this area, in Poughkeepsie Friday, May 22. The board plans to discuss various road problems in the township at that time with Sinacori.

The purchase of a new heavy duty dump truck from Raftery's Garage, Kingston, was authorized. The truck will cost $8,086.56 and is being purchased under a contract, together with two similar vehicles, by the Ulster County Highway Department. The county vehicles were ordered as the result of competitive bidding and the Town Board felt they could obtain a better price for one truck if it were added to the purchase of the county vehicles.

The Board authorized Emily W. Card, Town Clerk, to dispose of a number of old town records. The specified time for the keeping of the records in question had expired.

Asks Warning Device

It was announced that the Town Board, through the attorney for the town Charles H. Gaffney, had contacted the New York Central Railroad and requested the installation of a warning device on the Esopus Avenue rail crossing between Ulster Park and Esopus. A letter was received from Mr. C. F. Broschart, Ulster Park, protesting the increased number of billboards being erected along Route 9-W.

DeVall H. Dunbar, building inspector, reported the issuance of seven permits during April with a total valuation of the work to be undertaken of $55,640. Harry Mains, town fire marshal, reported on 14 inspection trips made during the past inspection period and the issuance of two violations reports, one to a residence in Connelly and one to a store in Port Ewen.

William J. C. Buddenhagen, chairman of the Board of Water Commissioners of the Port Ewen Water District, reported that the average daily usage of system waters during April had been 136,780 gallons. Buddenhagen also reported that the new water main connecting the new water treatment plant on the Hudson River to the system was more than half complete. The main, which is being laid along River Road, is expected to be connected to the present system within the next two weeks. Testing of the new plant is planned to commence the latter part of June.

Supervisor Mabie announced that the Commissioners of Ross Park, at a recent meeting, had selected DeVall H. Dunbar to be chairman and Mrs. Harriet Light to be secretary. The summer program at Ross Park of organized recreation for the children of the Township will start this year Monday, June 22.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT GIFTS IF HONEYMOON IS LONG

Q: My fiancé and I will be leaving on our honeymoon immediately following the reception and will be away for two months. As most of the presents will be arriving too late for me to acknowledge them before the wedding, may I wait until my return to acknowledge them? Or would it be permissible to have printed thank-you cards made up beforehand which a member of my family could send out for me while we are away?

A: Printed thank-you cards would not do at all. If you will be unable to write notes of thanks while you are away, it would be permissible in your case, rather than keep friends and relatives waiting for two months wondering whether or not their gifts were received, to send printed cards acknowledging the receipt of the gift and stating that a personal note will be written at a later date.

Her Trip Has Been Cancelled

Q: My father's sudden death cancelled my European trip. I received quite a few going-away presents. Should these be returned?

A: If your trip has been temporarily postponed for a later date, you would keep the presents. If it has been cancelled indefinitely, they should be returned unless the friends ask you to keep them.

Eating an Open Grilled Cheese Sandwich

Q: Will you please tell me the correct way to eat an open grilled cheese sandwich? Should it be eaten with a knife and fork or may it be picked up and eaten in the fingers?

A: It should be eaten with a knife and fork. The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Table Rules of Importance," describes how to eat spaghetti as well as other difficult foods. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

An early fall wedding is planned.

20th Century Club

Twentieth Century Club met on Monday, May 11 with Mrs. Albert E. Bushnell at 20 Burgevin Street. Mrs. William Soper presiding. The meeting opened with the recitation of the Collect for Club Women, after which Mrs. Soper welcomed Mrs. Cloyd L. Elias into membership.

Mrs. Bushnell's study paper for the day was a brief history of the West Parish Church and meeting house at West Barnstable, Cape Cod, Mass. In the year 1616 a small group of men and women gathered in the borough of Southwark, on the south side of the River Thames, just across London Bridge from the City of London. Joining hands, they solemnly covenanted with one another in the presence of Almighty God to walk together in all His ways and ordinances according as he had revealed them in his word, or should further make them known. This Southwark church was not the first independent or separatist church to be gathered in England. It was, however, the first Independent (Congregational) church that was to survive to the present time. In the record of the Revere Brass Co. Canton, Mass. is stated that in 1806, P. Revere & Son made for the Town of Barnstable a bell of the total weight of 922 pounds. The bell, now in the steeple of the meetinghouse bears in large letters the name, "REVERE." It was given to the town by Colonel James Otis, famous patriot of the American Revolution.

The meeting on May 26 will begin with a banquet, convene for election of officers and a social evening at the home of Mrs. Warren A. Russell on Burgevin Street.

Dear Abby . . .

Never Let It Be Said!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You burn me up! Why do you always take the man's side when wives complain that their retired husbands won't leave them alone? You are greatly in the dark about the habits of retired husbands and how exasperating they can be. Why do you always go to bat for the man? I hope your husband retires and objects to your pecking away at the typewriter; that you never have a minute you can call your own, and that he will be underfoot every step you take. The retired husband who does absolutely nothing can drive his wife crazy. That is my problem. My husband won't let me out of his sight. If I am gone for twenty minutes, he comes looking for me. I am a wreck from my husband's retirement. Men who retire should not bury themselves alive and expect their wives to inhabit the grave with them. Every woman needs a little loneliness. Why not give these lounge monarchs a little advice, too?

RETIRED MAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: So frequently have I advised retired men to volunteer their services to a worthwhile charity, to interest themselves in church work, civic affairs, politics, gardening, sports, and to make a few friends of their own so they won't be under their wives' feet from sunup 'til sundown, that I fear I have begun to sound like a broken record.

DEAR ABBY: I have always regretted not getting a college diploma. I started in the university, but I quit in my freshman year. I am now 33 years old, and I figured out that if I take courses three evenings a week it will take me eight years to get my diploma. And in eight years I will be 41 years old. Should I?

WANTS A DIPLOMA

DEAR WANTS: And how old will you be in eight years if you DON'T take the courses?

DEAR ABBY: Last week someone poisoned our dog, and if a member of our family had died I don't think I could have felt worse. Our poor dog suffered for days, and we spent a lot of money on vets and buying him pills, only to lose him in the end. I held that sick dog in my arms when he died, and it about tore my heart out to see the pain and agony in his eyes. Why, oh, why do people poison pets, Abby? I think a pet poisoner should be tried for murder.

A DAILY READER

DEAR READER: Poisoning a pet, anybody's pet, for whatever reason, is inhumane and inexcusable. But dog owners contribute to the innocent delinquency of their pets when they let them make nuisances of themselves — and prey to the poisoner.

DEAR ABBY: I go with a widow. She is past 60 and so am I. I enjoy her company, but she has a terrible habit. When I take her out to dinner, she opens up her handbag and dumps in all the bread, rolls, crackers and biscuits on the table. She says she will enjoy them for breakfast, and since I am paying for the food served to us, she is entitled to them. I get very much annoyed, and have been tempted to walk out and leave her sitting there. Please print this and tell her that nice people don't do things like that in nice restaurants. Thanks.

B. K.

DEAR B. K.: Warn her once more, and if she doesn't quit, look for someone who is better-bred.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WISH I DIDN'T KNOW" IN PHILADELPHIA: I urge you to tell her mother. If she were YOUR daughter, wouldn't you want to know?

Zaidenberg Show Opens at Albany Art on Tuesday

The Albany Institute of History and Art has announced a one-man show by Arthur Zaidenberg of Woodstock, starting Tuesday, May 19, when there will be a reception for the artist from 8 p. m. to 10 p. m.

Zaidenberg studied in New York at the National Academy and the Arts Students League. From there he went to Paris where he entered the Beaux Arts and subsequently studied with Andre L'Hote. He also studied in Rome and Munich. He has had a number of one-man shows, among them shows at the ACA Gallery and AAA Gallery in New York and the Rudolph Gallery in Woodstock and a show in Coral Gables. He has painted many murals throughout the United States in hotels and public buildings. He is represented in the permanent collections of the Metropolitan Museum and the Brooklyn Museum.

Zaidenberg has an unusual technique for some of his paintings, other than his oils. They are painted with clear chemicals on light-sensitized paper and produce something quite unusual. Zaidenberg is not a chemist, but he offers this new medium to painters because he feels it "possesses unique qualities impossible of achievement with the conventional materials."

He taught art at NYU for three years and is the author of several books on drawing and the complete works of Shakespeare and his illustrated many paintings. He recently illustrated other classics among them Candide, Thais and Anna Karenina.

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP) — By city ordinance, a property owner in Geneva is required to cut his lawn once every three weeks between May 15 and Sept. 15.

Ontora High P-TA to Install New Officers

New officers will be installed by the Ontora P-TA at its final meeting of the school year Tuesday, May 19, at 8 p. m. in the Boiceville school cafeteria.

Mrs. Ann Larys, a member of the Ontora Board of Education, will install the officers for the 1964-65 school year. Year end reports will be submitted by the chairman of major committees and a large attendance is urged.

The new officers are: president, Frank MacMartin, West Shokan; first vice president, Mrs. Paul Williams, Woodstock; second vice president, Jerry Wemple, Shokan; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Horsey, Woodstock; recording secretary, Mrs. Wesley John, West Shokan; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Joseph Toczydowski, West Hurley.

Exchange Program

The program for the evening might be called an "Exchange Students' Exchange." Three students will trade impressions as past, present and future exchange pupils. Miss Donna Matthews of Red Hook, who spent last year attending school in Turkey, Sener Ozer of Konya, Turkey, currently a student at Ontora, and Miss Wendy Hyatt, who will go abroad this summer, will discuss the American Field Society program. Hubert Breitenberger will act as moderator.

A special invitation is issued to all area high school students to attend this meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Scholarship Drive Continued by P-TA

The Ontora High School P-TA wishes to thank all those who have contributed to the current scholarship drive. Although many new contributors have responded to the appeal letter, the fund is still somewhat short of its goal.

The scholarship committee urges that some of the long-time donors who have not yet sent in their usual amount to please do so as soon as possible. The committee points out that this fund directly benefits the students in the Ontora Central school system and is an excellent long-term investment.

Contributions may be sent to the Scholarship Fund, care of J. Robert Daggett, central school, Boiceville, or to Rudy Frank, Shandaken. As stated in the appeal letter "no contribution is too small" to be gratefully received.

Colossal, Word On Census Plan

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The first do-it-yourself census in a large metropolitan U.S. area produced a response one official called "colossal" today.

The counting-by-mail project brought a flood of census forms into the Louisville Post Office Thursday.

By midnight, some 160,000 of the 240,000 forms mailed had been returned.

The census area covered Jefferson County (Louisville) and two counties across the Ohio River in Indiana, Clark and Floyd.

This was the first do-it-yourself venture into the big leagues of population. Earlier censuses were held in smaller cities, John Baker, bureau information officer said, but first-day response was less than here.

State to Inspect Boys School at Highland Tuesday

The New York State Board of Social Welfare will inspect new facilities at the Highland State Training School for Boys at Highland, Tuesday, May 19, Superintendent Frederick S. Appleton announced today. The 15-member board will visit a new school building and four new cottages at the state school.

The new construction is part of a continuing program of needed expansion of state training school facilities. Additional construction at Highland planned for this year, will include three more cottages and a storage building.

The Highland training school receives boys under 13 years of age who have been adjudicated by the Family Courts to be delinquent or otherwise in need of supervision. The average population of the institution is 225.

Boys released from Highland are supervised in their own homes, or in foster homes, by youth parole workers. At the present time, 236 boys are on parole from Highland.

A team of professional staff members at the school determines each boy's rehabilitative and other needs. All the boys attend all day classes in the elementary school program conducted at the institution with special emphasis on remedial reading.

Officially the trip is a fishing vacation aboard the presidential yacht Hourrya, complete with the Nasser and Khrushchev families.

However, Algeria's President Ahmed Ben Bella and Iraqi President Abdel Salam Aref also went along. It was doubtful that all these political personalities would stick to fishing.

A certain of secrecy descended as soon as Nasser, Khrushchev and Aref flew off from Aswan, where they participated in ceremonies Thursday marking completion of the first stage of the Aswan High Dam.

Ben Bella flew from Cairo Thursday night to join the group. He was followed by Egyptian Premier Aly Sabry and other Egyptian officials.

During the business sessions, report of the nomination committee for election of board of directors was made by Mrs. William H. vanBenschoten, chairman. The following members of board of directors were made for 1964-1965: Miss Rose Marie Feeney; for 1964-1967: Mrs. S. James Matthews, Fred H. DuBois, Henry C. Eichelman, MD, Milton M. Grover MD, Judge Raymond J. Mino, Augustus P. Modjeska, John M. Robbins, John R. Roberts, MD, Frederick W. Robinson, Edward F. Shea, MD, Miss Kathleen L. Shurley, RN, Miss Katherine T. Terwilliger and Reverend George D. Wood.

Dr. Holcomb discussed steps being taken and fully supported by the Association for the adjustment of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital for both tuberculosis patients and those with chronic chest problems.

Investigation was given by Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, Temple Emanuel and Benediction pronounced by the Rev. Roger M. Leonard, New Paltz Reformed Church.

Bishop Hobart Amstutz of Singapore told the 52nd annual meeting of the Northern New York Methodist Conference Friday that only 5 1/2 per cent of the 75,000 students in Malaysia were Christians.

But he added that Christians "exert the greatest amount of influence" in that part of the world.

Bishop Amstutz has been assigned to Southeast Asia since 1926. He had been expected to retire in August, but he said that he would be reassigned as bishop of Pakistan instead.

The five-day conference meeting, which ends Sunday, has attracted about 300 clergy and lay delegates.

The delegates approved at a business session Friday, a five-year plan to increase the annual income of the conference by $400,000. The program calls for a $10 increase in the annual contribution made by each of the 46,000 Methodists in the conference.

Area Groups Discuss Farm Waste Disposal

Farm Waste Disposal was the theme of a meeting held recently in the Town of Rochester clerk's office, attended by the Town Board, representatives of the Rochester Planning Board, the Towns of Wawarsing and Marlborough and local industries.

Guest speakers included Robert Guzewich, Ulster County Agricultural agent; Earl Wilde, Sullivan County Agricultural agent; Professor Charles Osterhander of Cornell University; Harry Edinger of the Ulster County Board of Health, and Walter Perrett, who represented the feed industry.

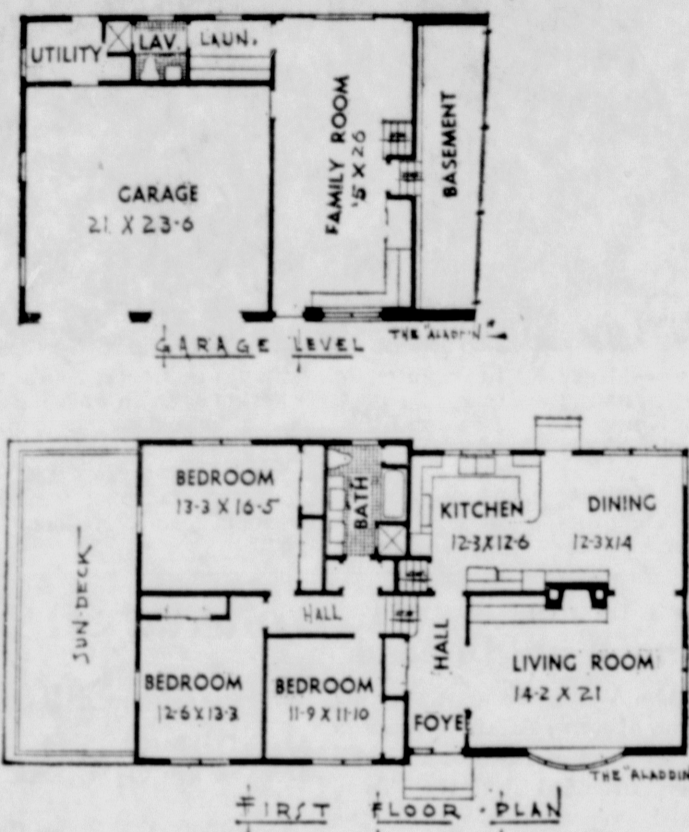

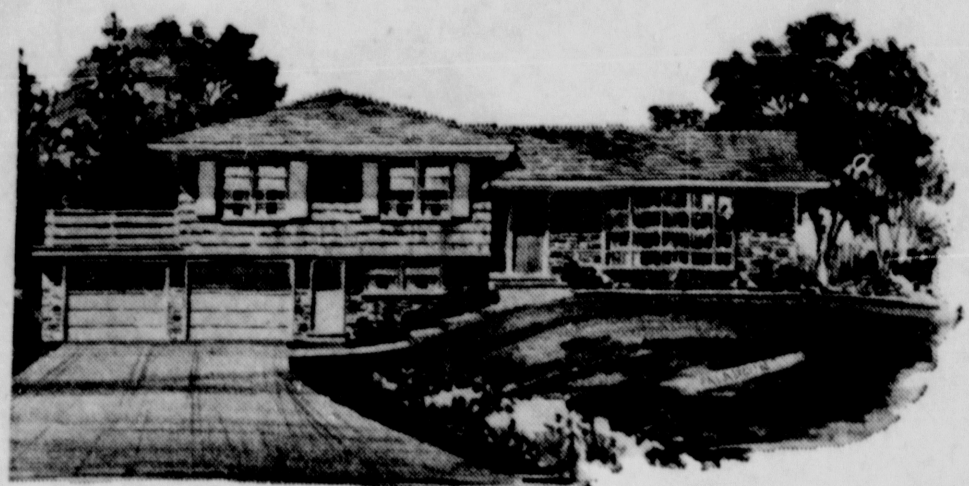

The session was termed very informative. It was decided to study the subject further and to schedule another meeting.

Popular Tri-Level Home Is Rated Good Investment

The degree of popularity with which American families have received the tri-level dwelling is assurance that this type structure has become permanently fixed in the hearts of homeowners, as a good investment.

The division of living and sleeping areas between levels gives additional function value to split-level home planning, in terms of convenience as well as well regulated traffic which is aptly illustrated in today's design called the "Aladdin."

Accessibility is a keynote throughout the planning of the "Aladdin."

The spacious living room suffers none of the burden of heavy traffic, thanks to the wide foyer hall that runs through the main level from the front entrance to the kitchen and stairs that lead to the sleeping quarters.

While the dining area may serve as an extension of the living room, it possesses its own distinction with the help of a bar separator extending from the kitchen wall, while it draws charm from the big window corner.

The first, or garage level, features a large back to front family room with sliding doors (glass) to the rear, laundry room, lavatory and a tool room with entries from the grounds and two car garage. Exterior planning calls for a stone, brick or split-crete front with cedar shingles.

Oscar and Emmy To Get Together On May 25 Show

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Oscar and Emmy are finally going to get together.

The meeting will take place on the annual Television Academy Awards telecast May 25, and it will be strictly for laughs. The opening sketch will show an actor's mantle, on which are displayed an Oscar and an Emmy. Dissolve. The pair become Dick Van Dyke and Mary Tyler Moore who then engage in a wry discussion about their mutual problems.

Permission to portray Oscar took some doing. Consent finally came from the Motion Picture Academy people, who apparently realized the skit might help displace some of Oscar's over-seriousness.

Have Become Stuffy

The Oscars have become institutionalized and stuffy. They are handed out in a cold auditorium and the only real liveliness comes at the Oscar ball, which isn't televised.

The Emmy affair has always seemed like a warm family party — sometimes chaotic, as such parties can be. The guests usually gather around dinner tables in a festive atmosphere, as members of the Motion Picture Academy did in its early days.

The atmosphere may be a bit strained this year, in view of this week's blasts against the academy by CBS News and ABC. But most of the stars and other creators are independent contractors who are not necessarily affected by the networks' views.

Robert Finkel, who is producing the Emmy show for NBC, aims to preserve the party spirit.

Cites Emmy Kidding

"The Oscars are much too serious," says he. "I see the Emmy show not only as a time to honor our best achievements, but also to kid the industry."

Besides the Van Dyke and Moore sketch, the show will feature a Carl Reiner interview with the 2,000-year-old man-Mel Brooks—and some barbs by the "That Was the Week That Was" troupe. Finkel also is planning a collection of scenes from past Emmys.

The show will originate from the Palladium here, Joey Bishop emcee; and the Texas Pavilion at the New York World's Fair, E. G. Marshall. Washington won't get a look-in this year. "The origination cost $25,000 and we found we had to send nominees there from New York," Finkel explained.

Boat Owner Fined

After Lake Mishap

ROUSE POINT, N.Y. (AP) — A $25 fine has been levied against the operator of a boat that capsized in Lake Champlain during a storm Thursday.

One of the boat's occupants drowned.

John J. Pelkey, 24, of Rouses Point, pleaded guilty before a justice of the peace Friday to a charge of operating a boat with no life preservers, warning devices or lights.

The body of Donald H. Murray, 40, of Rouses Point, who was lost when the 14-foot boat was overturned by high waves, was recovered Friday.

Pelkey and Frederick P. Martin, 21, also of Rouses Point, were rescued by State Police as they clung to the overturned craft.

Veterans Rights, Benefits Listed

By Charles Culver, State Veterans Counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, and John Tyler, Director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 4 Hurley Avenue, Kingston, office hours, Monday through Friday, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Insurance—Veterans who are drawing retirement pay can request the branch of the service with which they are connected to make out an allotment from their retirement pay to cover their GI insurance premiums payment. This saves time and expense and guards against a lapsed policy.

Discharges—There is a uniformity in the various branches of service in the types of discharge. Five types are issued: Honorable; General under honorable conditions; Undesirable; Bad conduct; Dishonorable.

Bonus—Next of Kin Clause—

If the death of a WW II veteran occurred while he was on active duty with the Armed Forces of the United States at any time between December 7, 1941 and September 2, 1945, and this death was not due to misconduct on his part the benefit is $250. If his death occurred after separation from the Armed Services, the next of kin is entitled to what the veteran would have collected had the veteran lived to present the application in person. The WW II Bonus Program terminates March 31, 1965. After that deadline date no applications will be accepted unless qualified persons can prove they were incapable of previously applying because of physical or mental incapacity.

It is difficult to estimate how many eligible persons have not yet applied for the bonus. Among the reasons why individuals have not applied during the past 16 years are: that many New York State veterans took up residence outside of the State after the war and some were physically or mentally incapacitated.

Civil Service—There are two classes of veteran preference—5 point and 10 point. Five-point preference is given to honorably separated veterans who served on active duty in the armed forces of the United States during any war, or during the period April 28, 1952, through July 1, 1955, or in any campaign or expedition for which a campaign badge or service medal has been authorized.

CG Auxiliary Is To Visit Marinas On Boat Safety

Officials of the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary said today that members will visit area marinas or boat clubs to answer questions about boat safety and to make courtesy inspections.

George B. Wiegert, publication officer for the auxiliary, urged boat owners and operators to make sure that their crafts were in safe condition by having Coast Guard-approved life jackets and other safety devices aboard. If any boatmen were in doubt about his equipment, Wiegert said, he may get in contact with a member of the U.S.C.G. Auxiliary which will discuss any problems about craft and equipment safety.

Wiegert said that auxiliary members will accommodate boat owners by issuing a U.S.C.G.A. decal if their boat passes examination. This is done free of charge as a public service. The auxiliary also has available pamphlets and leaflets covering all phases of boating from the smallest to the largest pleasure boats afloat, as well as a limited number of applications for citizen band transmitter operations. Membership applications are also available at the auxiliary headquarters at Duane Boat Basin, Absecon Ravine Street, Kingston. The organization meets the first and third Thursdays of the month.

HASC Head Rejects Bid to Probe Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A request by New York members of Congress for an investigation of the Army's plan to build a test nuclear reactor at the Aberdeen, Md., Proving Ground has been rejected by the chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., said Friday he had turned down the request from the New York Congressional Steering Committee because he did not believe that "a formal committee inquiry into this matter is warranted."

He made his view known in a letter to the steering committee.

New York State plans to build a reactor, similar to the one planned for Aberdeen, at the Malta Test Station north of Schenectady.

The New York request for an investigation followed a report by Oliver Townsend, chairman of the New York State Atomic Research and Development Authority, that the Army's reactor would be identical to the one planned by New York. As a result, the two reactors would be directly competitive.

Wheat Registry Date Extended To Friday, May 22

The application period for participation in the 1964 federal wheat program, including price support loans, has been extended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to Friday, May 22, it was announced today.

Joseph Sauer, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Office, said that if a producer desires to get price support loans, plus acreage diversion payments and certificates based on his share in the domestic and export market, he must sign up before that date, which is an extension of one week over the original sign-up date, to be a program cooperator.

To become a cooperator, a wheat producer remains within his acreage allotment, devotes his diverted acres to conserving uses and fulfills the program's other requirements. The "domestic" certificates will have a fixed face value of 70 cents per bushel and the "export" one will be worth 25 cents a bushel. They will be based on a percentage of the farms normal production of the wheat acreage within the allotment.

Thus, a program cooperator receiving a price support loan and certificates will receive a national average return of $2.00 per bushel for his domestic share and $1.55 for his export share, provided his yield is equal to his normal production and he has the minimum qualifying diversion.

This is one-third more than he would have received in the absence of the new legislation enacted for this year's crop. Had the new program not been enacted, wheat would have had only price support loans at $1.26 per bushel average for those staying within their allotments, the local agency said.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill Murphy of the Los Angeles Times is happy that one of his pictures will be on the John F. Kennedy commemorative stamp to be issued May 29, the late president's birthday.

But he doesn't care for the clue by which he was identified as the photographer.

Mrs. Kennedy selected the picture after seeing it in an advertisement for films of the Kennedy family, published in a Bergen County, N.J., newspaper, the Hackensack Record.

Officials of the film company didn't know the photographer but someone recalled that the picture was taken by one of "the old photographers at the Times."

Murphy is 44.

The portrait was taken Nov. 2, 1958, at the Santa Monica home of Kennedy's brother-in-law, actor Peter Lawford.

County Summary

Road Toll Down In 1963 Despite More Accidents

Traffic accident statistics for 1963 released by the Department of Motor Vehicles indicate that Ulster County recorded 33 highway fatalities, five were pedestrians, a decrease of seven under the preceding year.

Despite the fact that highway accidents and injuries increased, the statistics show a decrease of seven in fatalities.

In 3,333 traffic accidents, 2,419 persons were injured.

The official figures for Kingston show 798 mishaps with 516 injuries and one fatality. The villages of the county recorded 311 accidents with 193 injuries and two fatalities.

Rural areas of the county outside Kingston and the villages noted 2,224 accidents with 1,710 injuries and 30 fatalities.

In 1962 a total of 2,981 highway mishaps were recorded in comparison with 3,333 last year. Correspondingly, injuries for 1962 totaled 2,216 compared with 2,419 for last year.

To date this year only five traffic fatalities were recorded. At this date last year Ulster County had recorded seven highway fatalities and listed its eighth on May 14.

Dutchess County with 31 fatalities last year, recorded 12 more in 1962 for a total of 43. Dutchess also recorded more accidents — 4,561 — in 1963 and more injuries — 2,934 — than the previous year.

Dutchess listed 29 fatalities in rural areas and two in Poughkeepsie.

Ulster's neighboring county appears to be heading for a new record this year with its 19th traffic fatality recorded May 5. Last year the 19th was recorded on October 24.

Fire Insurance Rate Increase Is Approved

NEW YORK (AP) — Some New York homeowners will soon be paying up to 27 per cent more for fire insurance.

The New York Fire Insurance Rating Organization announced rate increases, approved by the State Insurance Department, became effective Friday.

The increases will apply to new or renewed policies, not to existing policies.

Only straight fire policies are affected, not homeowners' "package" policies, which also cover theft, furniture and personal liability.

The increases on the affected policies amount to 11 to 16 per cent in New York City, and 21 to 27 per cent elsewhere in the state. The amount of the increase depends on the construction and location of the house.

Port Jervis Wallops Kingston, 7-2, in DUSO Struggle

Raiders Move Into Top Spot With Key Win

Striking for quick runs in the first two frames, Port Jervis moved into first place in the DUSO league chase with a 7-2 win over visiting Kingston High yesterday.

Standings:

Team	Won	Lost
Port Jervis	4	1
Kingston	3	2
Middletown	2	2
Poughkeepsie	1	3
Newburgh	1	3

While righty Joe Nolan scattered seven hits, his mates combed lower Brian Bach and relief chucker Gene Rios for eight.

Bach gave up three runs in the opening session and another in the second before giving way to Rios. The swift lefty was tagged for a solo marker in the fourth and two in the fifth.

Coach Al Gruner's nine rebounded in the sixth when Rod DeVauve singled with two outs to ignite a rally. Mike Canning followed with a double and Marsh Suskie and Joe Amendola singled. However, the rally stumped there.

A snappy double play pulled Nolan out of a possible jam in the seventh frame.

Kingston will try to resume its winning way by playing at Middletown on Monday. The locals are 7-3 for the season.

Overtrick Paces 2:00 1-5 Mile

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Overtrick turned in a record performance in posting a length and a quarter victory over Adora's Dream in the $25,000 World's Fair Pace Friday night before 31,334 at Yonkers Raceway.

John Patterson drove the 4-year-old son of Solicitor to the win in 2:00 1-5 the fastest time on a half-mile track this season.

Overtrick, owned by Mrs. Leonard J. Buck of Far Hills, N.J., returned $3.20, $2.80 and $2.40 across the board.

Henry T. Adios was third. At Buffalo Raceway, Crystal Newport won the featured $3,000 trot by half a length over Grace Frost.

Tom Dufford drove the horse to victory in 2:05 3-5 for payoffs of $22.40, $9.60 and $3.00.

CHANGING PERSPECTIVE

Caserto's No-Hitter Halts Highland Club, 3-1, in 8th

Vince Caserto fired a no-hitter but it took Marlboro eight innings to subdue Highland, 3-1, in a pivotal UCAL game yesterday at the losers' diamond.

The Duke lefty was almost matched serve for serve by Tom Gruner, the Highland mound ace. In fact, but for an error, Caserto would have been beaten, 1-0, in regulation play.

Highland tallied a run in the fourth on a walk to Steve Sorce, a sacrifice and a wild pitch. The way Gruner was hurling, that marker looked big. Caserto, a solid hitting pitcher, began the top of the sixth with a booming triple. Rod Aurigemma then hit a grounder and Caserto headed for home. He did it because the ball was fumbled.

The Dukes, held to only two hits for seven frames, doubled that total in the eighth. After Gruner walked Aurigemma, Highland put two runners on base in the last of the eighth but Caserto fanned the side, giving him 19 strikeouts for his afternoon's performance.

With the victory, Marlboro has a two-game bulge over the other contenders in the loss column as the Dukes strive for a second straight circuit title.

KHS Cindermen Top Lourdes, 96½-39½

Capturing first place in all but three events, the Kingston High track team easily swept past the visiting cindermen from Our Lady of Lourdes, 96½-39½, yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

Coach Bill Hurley's team made its season record a neat 3-1-1 in dual meets with the impressive win. The locals will host Saugerties on Monday.

John Sexton ran the 100 and 220 for the first time and he won them both. Mike Burns came out in top spot in both the shot and discus while Oscar Palmer captured the high and broad jumps.

SHS Trackmen Beat Ravena

Richie Giannotti scored a double triumph and Ron MacRae broke his own school mark in the two mile relay as Saugerties beat Ravena, 66½-51½, in a dual track meet yesterday at Ravena.

Giannotti, who is unbeaten in the 100 and 220 in dual meets this season, did the 100 in 10.5 and the 220 in 23.7. MacRae captured the two mile event in 11:04.5, beating his previous mark by a second.

Coach Bud Smith's squad captured 10 of the events in bringing its mark to 5-4 for the season. The Sawyers are at Dietz Stadium on Monday for a meet with Kingston High.

Results: 100 — 1. Giannotti, S. 2. Case, R. 3. Hagadone, R. Time 10.5 seconds. 220 — 1. Giannotti, S. 2. Case, R. 3. Nelson, R. Time 23.7 seconds. 440 — 1. Watson, S. 2. Perkins, S. 3. Boyd, R. ## Oklahoma Golf Tourney Delayed Again by Rain

By NORMAN ROWLAND

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The $40,000 Oklahoma City Open, twice stymied by thunderstorms, starts again today. The weather forecast again included scattered thunderstorms.

Play was scheduled to begin at 7:30 a.m. with threesomes starting off from two tees. The same procedure will be used Sunday and if there are no more weather delays the tournament will conclude with 36 holes of play Monday over Quail Creek Country Club's 7,042-yard par 72 layout.

Officials of the Professional Golfers' Association said none of the 149 professionals entered had asked to withdraw because of the delays.

Friday's start was delayed one hour and 50 minutes by a thundershower, finally beginning at 8:50 a.m. Less than two hours later a thunderstorm halted play. It wasn't long before officials announced they'd try again today.

Tournament co-chairman Jim Norick said there has been some discussion of moving next year's tournament to September in order to miss the annual spring tornado and thunderstorm season.

"As a matter of fact we tried last winter to get a September date because we were putting in a new watering system this spring. But someone else already had asked for the date. However, I understand that other people canceled," Norick said.

He said Quail Creek stockholders would have to decide whether to try for the September date next year. Norick said he would prefer the last week in August.

Baltimore Chuckers Win Pair

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

When the winning pitcher in Baltimore's 10-year American League tenure tosses a shutout before the home fans, collects two hits and three trips to the plate and still gets upstaged by a veteran of four major league appearances, he has to be bucking a hot attraction.

Milt Pappas found out what it's like to follow fuzzy-cheeked Wally Bunker's act Friday night when the two right-handers pitched the Orioles to a double-header sweep over Los Angeles.

Pappas blanked the Angels on eight hits and plunked a single and run-scoring double in Baltimore's 12-0 nightcap victory. But he played second banana to Bunker's 6-1 four-hit masterpiece—third straight complete-game victory for the 19-year-old bonus bird—in the opener.

The second-game decision was Pappas' 83rd as an Oriole and evened his 1964 record at 2-2. He was the same age as Bunker is now and a member of Baltimore's original Kiddie Korps when he won his first game.

Pappas arrived in a hurry eight years ago; Bunker came on like the untouchables—one hitting Washington in his season debut.

The $70,000 bonus sensation, less than a year removed from high school, has allowed two earned runs and 14 hits in 27 innings.

Four Shutouts

Pappas' shutout was one of four in AL activity. Chicago's John Buzhardt blanked Washington 2-0 on three hits, Minnesota's Camilo Pascual edged Boston's Bill Monbouquette 1-0 on a six-hitter and Kansas City's Diego Segui scattered nine hits and tamed New York 11-0.

Cleveland ripped Detroit 10-6 in the only game not marked by fine pitching.

Home runs by Luis Aparicio and John Orsino and Bob Johnson's two-run triple backed Bunker in the Orioles-Angels opener. Norm Siebern chipped in with three hits. The Angels scored their run on Jim Fregosi's triple and an infield out.

Pappas struggled for his shutout, stranding 10 LA base runners, but the outcome was decided when the Orioles scored six unearned runs in the fourth. Jackie Brandt hit a three-run homer in the eighth.

Buzhardt retired the last 18 batters he faced and won his third of five decisions. He struck out nine and walked one. The White Sox scored their lone run in the third inning and Dave Nicholson singled home the other run in the sixth.

The Twins, held to three singles by Monbouquette through seven innings, won in the eighth on Frank Malone's error, a sacrifice and Bernie Allen's double. Minnesota's Tony Oliva raised his league-leading batting average to .425 with two singles and a double.

Rocky Colavito touched Yankee starter Ralph Terry for a second-inning homer—his 10th of the year—and singled home one of five Kansas City runs in the sixth, but had to leave the game when he was hit in the ankle by a line drive off the bat of teammate Dick Groat. The A's completed the rout with five runs in the eighth.

The Indians scored three runs in the seventh, two on rookie Bob Chance's pinch hit homer, added a pair in the eighth on Larry Brown's double and pulled out of reach on ninth-inning homers by Jerry Kindall and Woodie Held. Norm Cash and Jerry Lumpe connected for Detroit.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Columnist Walter Winchell suffered a neck injury in Los Angeles Friday when another car struck the rear of his, police reported.

Winchell, 67, was treated at Central Receiving Hospital.

INDIO, Calif. (AP)—Sim Dinah Shore, Friday, sued her second husband, Maurice Smith, for divorce in Indio, Calif. The couple have resided for the past year in nearby Palm Springs.

Miss Shore's suit said her contractor-husband caused her "great and grievous mental anguish and suffering." She and Smith were married May 26, 1963, and separated five days ago, the complaint said.

Miss Shore divorced cowboy actor George Montgomery May 9, 1962, after 18 years of marriage. She has two children, Melissa Ann, 16, and John David Montgomery, 9.

NEW YORK (AP)—Julio Lobo, 65, whose Cuban sugar empire was taken over by Fidel Castro in 1960, said Friday in New York he was "very happy" that anti-Castro guerrillas raided and damaged a mill he once owned.

"The guerrillas are heroes and patriots," he said. "Friends have been calling me. They say how sorry they are. But I am not sorry at all. If it helps the fight against Castro, I would like every one of my mills to be burned to the ground."

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was found to be in good health after his annual physical checkup, his office in Gettysburg, Pa., reported Friday.

Eisenhower had his checkup at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington.

Pete Runnels Placed On Waivers by Colts

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP)—Pete Runnels said Friday night he was glad he had been placed on waivers by the Houston Colts because he didn't want to sit on the bench.

The two-time American League batting champion was placed on waivers for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release.

Runnels had a good spring training and was in the lineup the first two weeks of the season. He slumped to .230 at bat, however, and was benched.
